Togo Reports That in Action at Port Arthur He Sent Guardship and a Destroyer to Bottom.

RUMOR OF BIG BATTLE.

Kouropatkin Said to Have Defeated Kuroki's Army, Losing 17,000 Men in the Engagement.

BULLETIN.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 4, 1 a. m.—A rumor is current that Gen. Kouropatkin has defeated Gen. Kuroki in a great battle, but that the Russians lost 17,000 men.

Another rumor adds that Gen. Mistchenko has won a victory, taking an entire Japanese brigade prisoners.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

TOKIO, July 3.—Admiral Togo reports that the Japanese torpedo boats approached Port Arthur last Monday night (June 27) and were discovered by the Russian picket ships, which were attacked. Despite the heavy fire from ships and forts and the blinding searchlights the Japanese succeeded in torpedoing a two masted, three funneled vessel, either a battleship or a cruiser, which sunk below Golden hill.

Simultaneously the Russian torpedo boat destroyers attacked the Japanese. The fire by the latter capsized one of the Russian boats. The happenings at night were clearly seen.

On the Japanese destroyers Lieut. Gondo and thirteen men were killed and three men wounded.

The Asahi reports that a two funneled vessel, perhaps the battleship Poltava, is submerged at a point on the coast fifteen miles northwest of Port Arthur.

It is semi-officially announced that Vice Admiral Kamimura's squadron was off Tsushima island, in the strait of Corea, on Friday. The Vladivostok squadron apparently has escaped to the northeast.

TOGO'S REPORT ON BATTLE.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, July 3, 3 p. m.—A belated report from Admiral Togo records a desperate and successful torpedo attack at the entrance of Port Arthur last Monday night, June 27, in which a Russian guardship and a Russian torpedo boat destroyer were sunk.

The guardship is described as having two masts and three funnels. It was either a battleship or a cruiser, and it was torpedoed and destroyed. The torpedo boat destroyer was struck and then blew up and sank.

Admiral Togo reports the loss of one officer and thirteen men killed and one officer and two men wounded. He makes no mention of damage to his fleet.

Twelfth Flotilla in Action.

The twelfth torpedo boat flotilla, under the command of Commander Yamada, delivered the attack. The Japanese vessels were revealed by the Russian searchlights and the shore forts opened a heavy fusillade on them.

The Russian guardship was surrounded and attacked by the Japanese, who saw this vessel sink amid huge volumes of water thrown up by heavy explosions.

Following this the Russian torpedo boat destroyers at once attacked the Japanese vessels, which responded to the onslaught. A Russian destroyer, while within the area lit up by the searchlights, was seen to explode, rise, fall back into the water sideways, and sink.

The guardship sank near the base of Golden hill.

The cause for the delay by Admiral Togo in forwarding this report is not known, but it is presumed that he was busy and did not have time to communicate with Tokio.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF FIGHT.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from Tokio:

"Admiral Togo reports that on the night of June 27 the twelfth torpedo boat flotilla attacked and sank the enemy's guardship, with two masts and three funnels, outside Port Arthur. The same flotilla then exchanged fire with the enemy's destroyers, one of which was observed capsized and sunk. Our casualties were fourteen dead and three wounded."

Recent Events Summarized.

Recent reports from Russian sources, Chefoo, and elsewhere, mention continued activity and several engagements by land and by sea near Port Arthur from June 24 to June 30. A Russian official report said that on the night of June 24-25 Japanese torpedo boats approached the fortress at Port Arthur and that on June 26 a Japanese land attack was supported by a cannonade from the warships. During the evening of June 29 the forts and batteries at Port Arthur opened fire on Japanese torpedo boats.

A dispatch from Chefoo said a big battle was fought on land near Port Arthur on June 26 and on June 27. No mention, however, has been made of Russian losses to correspond with those reported by Admiral Togo.

The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Lieut. Burukoff left Port Arthur the night of Tuesday, June 28, and reached Newchwang the next day.

The Russian foreign office has given out a dispatch dated June 30 announcing that the Russian warships safely reëntered Port Arthur after the fight of June 23, and that not one of them was damaged.

Six Battleships Accounted For.

Refugees from Port Arthur who have arrived recently at Chefoo report that four Russian battleships, with gunboats and torpedo boats are kept in the harbor, while two battleships, five cruisers; and a flotilla of torpedo boats make excursions to sea.

Foreigners who left Port Arthur the evening of July 1 reached Chefoo July 2. Their reports made no mention of the sinking of two Russian warships.

Recent Russian denials of naval losses have been particularly directed to the statement contained in a previous report from Admiral Togo that on June 23 the Japanese inflicted serious losses on the Russian fleet off Port Arthur.

750 DROWNED ON EMIGRANT SHIP.

Steamer Norge from Copenhagen for New York Strikes Rock Off Coast of Scotland and Sinks.

ONLY 26 KNOWN SAVED.

Few Passengers Who Are Picked Up by Fishing Boat Tell Tale of Frightful Disaster at Sea.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

[Copyright: 1904: By the New York Herald.]

LONDON, July 4, 3 a. m.—More than 750 emigrants, including men, women, and children, are believed to have been drowned by the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Norge at Rockall reef, 290 miles off the west coast of Scotland.

Ship Full of Emigrants.

The passengers on the Norge were mostly Norwegians and Danes, bound for New York, having left Copenhagen on June 22.

According to the most reliable figures obtainable there were over 750 emigrants and a large crew on the ship when it struck.

Had Lost Course in Fog.

The disaster happened in the early morning of last Wednesday while the vessel was off its course in the fog.

The ship was going at reduced speed when it struck Rockall reef, tearing a huge hole in the bow of the boat.

The engines were reversed, and in a moment the vessel was backing away from the huge pinnacle of rock that loomed up through the fog just ahead.

Water Pours Through Hole.

The water rushed in through the hole in the iron shell of the boat at a terrific rate and then the passengers made a rush for the boats.

According to the statements of passengers who were among the few saved, there was a panic on board, and a great deal of confusion.

There were eight lifeboats swung on davits, and these were lowered away as quickly as possible. Some of them were overloaded and were swamped in the high seas that were running.

Only Two Boats Get Away.

It is asserted that of the eight boats only two got clear of the ship, and of these two only one has been heard from.

The one pitiful boat load of twenty-seven persons was saved by chance, the steam trawler Salvia, from Grimsby, sighting it far out to sea and picking it up.

It is from this boat load of twenty-seven persons that all the information about the wreck has been obtained.

Say People Behaved Well.

According to the account of the rescued when last seen the Norge was sinking where it struck, on the islet whose isolated peak raises itself from the deadly Atlantic reef.

When the ship struck, the emigrants, who were then awaiting breakfast below, ran on deck. The hatchways were scarcely built for these hundreds of souls and became clogged, adding to the panic.

Cared for Women and Children.

The Norge quickly began to go down by the head. Eight boats were lowered, and into these the women and children were hurriedly put. Six of these boats smashed against the side of the Norge, and their helpless inmates were caught up by the heavy seas.

Two boatloads got safely away from the side of the sinking ship, and many of the emigrants who were left on board, seizing lifebelts, threw themselves into the sea and were drowned.

Capt. Gundel, so say the survivors, stood on the bridge of the doomed vessel until it could be seen no more.

Ship Founders Suddenly.

The Norge foundered suddenly and some 600 terrified emigrants were thrown into the water or drawn down with the sinking ship. Those who could swim tried to reach the boats, but these were already too full and their occupants beat off the drowning with oars.

The boats kept together for some hours. Practically all of their occupants were passengers, and were not used to handling such craft. The boat occupied by the survivors landed at Grimsby was a lifeboat.

The lifeboat made faster progress and fell in with the Salvia. What became of the other boats is not yet known.

Six Women and Girl Saved.

The rescue of those on the lifeboat took place at 8 o'clock on the morning of June 29, the survivors consisting of twenty men, one of them a seaman, six women, and a girl.

One of the survivors said that when he got on deck the Norge was half submerged and was rapidly getting lower in the water. Half mad with fright the survivors all struggled for places in the boats. They fought their way to the big lifeboat and an officer stowed in the six women and the girl and then told the men to get in.

Officer Gives Up His Life.

The officer then took charge and got the boat away from the side of the Norge. Seeing that the boat was already overloaded, the officer, with great heroism, jumped into the water and tried to board another boat which was not so full. He failed and was drowned.

In the sea by this time was a mass of struggling men, women, and children, gasping and choking from the effects of the water. The boat rowed clear of them, and just as it drew away the Norge went down.

Little Hope for the Others.

The only hope except for those known to have escaped is that some few of the emigrants might have been washed up on the barren rock. Their chance of being rescued even then is practically nil, for vessels sailing the North Atlantic give Rockall as wide a berth as possible.

Trawler Brings First News.

The first news of this disaster came with the arrival of the steam trawler Salvia at its home port, the quiet fishing town of Grimsby. The Salvia had been on a fortnight's cruise around the Hebrides. By a lucky chance it steamed farther west than usual for Grimsby trawlers and fell in with the survivors of the Norge, who for twenty-four hours had been tossed about in a small boat on the rough waters of the north Atlantic.

One of the Saved Tells Story.

The first account of the affair was told by Peter Nelson, an American, who, like the rest, was almost exhausted from his experience. He said:

"We left Copenhagen June 22. There were 700 emigrants, Norwegians, Swedes, Danes, and Finns, on board. The crew numbered about eighty.

"All went well until June 28. I lay in my bunk waiting for breakfast. We heard a little bump, then another bump, and then I rushed on deck.

"I saw at once that something had happened, and I made a dash below to gather up my few belongings.

Emigrants Rush for Boats.

"Scores were rushing on deck and the hatchway was crowded with emigrants. They were launching boats and rushing into them, but there was no panic.

"Four or five were in the boat into which

15 DEAD, 39 HURT IN WABASH WRECK

Chicago-St. Louis Train with Excursionists Crashes Into an Open Switch at Litchfield, Ill.

FLAMES ADD TO HORROR.

Chicago Passengers Have Thrilling Experience, One of Them Leading in Work of Rescue.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Litchfield, Ill., July 3.—[Special.]—An open switch, no one knows why, a heavy train laden with July 4th excursionists to St. Louis, an engineer bent on making up time who could have seen the open switch signal but didn't, at least fifteen persons killed, and thirty-nine horribly burned and mangled. Thirteen dead have been identified.

This familiar story tells the wreck of the regular Chicago-St. Louis train on the Wabash due here at 5:40 this afternoon. It was train No. 11 that left Chicago at 11 a. m., consisting of eight coaches and a baggage car. It was thirty minutes late and was going at forty-five miles an hour when it struck the switch. The coaches, except the last two, crashed into the engine, which turned completely around after striking the box cars. To add to the horror fire consumed the train. Several excursionists who are missing are believed to have been burned.

Chicagoan Leads Rescuers.

Dr. P. H. Ferrell of the Stewart building, Chicago, was on the train and led the rescuers. By intelligent work with axes and saws many were gotten out of the burning cars before the townspeople, three-quarters of a mile away, could render assistance. St. Francis' hospital tonight is filled with injured, many of them in a dying condition.

The general impression is that the wreck was due to the carelessness of a railroad employé in charge of the switch. The switch was found open after the wreck and the lock on the ground and the semaphore showed the switch to be open, but it was not noticed until too late to avert the collision.

Weber, Mrs. Elizabeth, Chicago, seriously but not fatally.
White, Edward, porter.

Crashes Into Open Switch.

Railroad officials assert that the switch was not used during the afternoon, and that the switch was opened by some crank who had secured the keys. Coroner W. A. Gray is investigating and said tonight there would probably be arrests.

When the train reached Honey Bend, twenty miles north of Litchfield, it was thirty minutes late. In an effort to make up that time and with a clear track it is reported a speed of forty-five miles an hour was reached. Engineer Sandford whistled for a crossing just before striking the switch, but did not notice the danger signal of the semaphore, and the train sped into the open switch.

Too late the engineer whistled for brakes. There was an awful crash, the engine plowed into a train of empty box cars thirty yards from the switch, knocking four to one side of the track, and turned a complete circle, snapping the tender off 100 yards down the track. The baggage car and smoker and the next coach were thrown across the track at right angles to the engine. The others crashed into them end first. Fire, ignited by the locomotive firebox, in three minutes had gone through the train. Engineer George Sandford and Fireman Samuel Smith were caught under the engine. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Two Rear Cars Saved.

The conductor, being on a rear car, escaped injury. The last car was a special from Three Rivers, Wis., and with the preceding one was uncoupled and saved.

Within a few minutes after the wreck Mayor W. J. King, Chief of Police Goodwin, and 100 citizens engaged in the rescue work. The dead were taken from the cars and laid on the grass. The townspeople were prompt in offering vehicles and a procession of carriages to the St. Francis hospital a mile away lasted for over an hour.

Several died on the way. The hospital was not large enough to accommodate the injured and they were laid on the grass outside or taken to hotels. To add to the confusion the electric lights at the hospital went out and the surgeons were compelled to work by smoky lamps. Two Roman Catholic priests gave consolation to the dying.

Assisting the regualr surgeons was Dr. P. H. Farrell of the Cook County hospital staff. He gave a graphic account of the wreck.

Passengers Sent Flying.

"I was at dinner," said he, "when there was a sudden crash. Tables were overturned and crockery shattered. People were sent flying about the car. There was a heavy concussion as if the brakes had been set. The train ran perhaps fifty yards and then began to pile up. I saw from its position that the engine would set fire to the train and, getting out a sledge and saws, put people to work saving the imprisoned. To a number of injured I gave first aid."

Carl F. Hendrickson of Park Ridge, N. D., was in the third coach from the baggage car.

"I had just given up my seat to a woman and gone in to the smoking compartment," he said. "Our car was the most badly wrecked, breaking in the middle. Our first intimation that anything was wrong came when the brakes were set. The train slowed up, then came the collision. I was pitched across the car. I found the woman to whom I had given my seat caught by the hair and to release her I was compelled to cut the hair with my knife."

While the dead were being identified and

BRYAN'S ATTACKS HELP TO PARKER

Savage Criticism by Nebraska Man Said to Have Added Votes to New York Jurist's Column.

CALLED TRUST'S MAN.

States Friendly to Gorman Angered by Silver Leader Inclined to Enter the Hill Camp.

[BY RAYMOND.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—As a result of a savage statement attacking Parker, which was given out for publication this afternoon by William Jennings Bryan, the nomination of the New York judge, certainly on the second, and possibly on the first, ballot, has been made certain.

Judge Parker's managers figured up at least 500 votes on their arrival here. This was exclusive of Pennsylvania, Maryland, the District of Columbia, and West Virginia, which were supposed to be more or less inclined to pick up Gorman as the one man with whom to beat Parker.

Bryan Starts the Fight.

Bryan arrived in St. Louis early this morning and before nightfall had issued a statement showing an exceedingly savage spirit and attacking Judge Parker as the candidate of Wall street and the trust industries generally.

Mr. Bryan could not have done a better thing for Parker if he had tried. His statement united the conservative elements and apparently destroyed all hope of consolidating them upon Cleveland, McClellan, Gorman, or Pattison of Pennsylvania.

As soon as the import of Bryan's statement become generally known the opinion was expressed that Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia would be forced to vote for Parker on the first ballot.

The three states and the District have 124 votes, and it is belived that these, with the stragglers from other states, might be sufficient to give Parker the nomination on the first ballot.

Tammany's Advance Guard.

Tammany's advance guard put in an appearance tonight. Leader Murphy, Bourke Cockran, Charlie Towne, and one or two others who have become prominent by their opposition to Parker, opened headquarters and began their campaign.

To the surprise of everybody, the preliminary Tammany attack on Parker proved to be an extremely mild one. Mr. Murphy and his associates contented themselves with a placid declaration to the effect that Cleveland would be a good deal better candidate and that he would more surely carry New York for the democrats.

All thoughts of a vote by Tammany or of any organized effort in behalf of Cleveland or McClellan seem to have disappeared as a result of the extreme conservatism of the Tammany crowd. This fact, taken in connection with the Bryan statement, served to solidify the Parker element.

Declare Fight Is All Over.

David B. Hill, August Belmont, Tom Taggart, Norman Mack, and other Parker managers with whom I have talked declare without hesitation that the fight is all over. This is the general sentiment here tonight.

There is a rumor that Senator Gorman has telegraphed to third parties requesting that his name be not presented to the convention. The existence of such a telegram is denied by all of his friends, but his withdrawal is none the less probable, and it seems likely that the only candidates before the convention will be Parker, Hearst, and the favorite sons—Olney, Cockrell, and Wall.

With the presidency out of the way, the personal fight will be over the chairmanship of the national committee, which seems to rest between Gorman, Tom Taggart, and Guffey of Pennsylvania.

Vice Presidency Not Considered.

The vice presidency has not yet been seriously considered by the Parker element and they will not expose their hand until after the nomination for first place has actually been made. Francis of Missouri, McLean of Ohio, Harrison of Illinois, Rose of Wisconsin, Turner of Washington, Shively of Indiana, and Folk of Missouri are all mentioned in about the order given.

There is sentimental talk of nominating a southern man without a war record for second place, in which case John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, Clark Howell of Georgia, and Joe Bailey of Texas would receive consideration, also in the order named.

The sentiment of the leaders, however, is well expressed by one of them, who said:

"We have a bare chance of winning, and it would be foolish to do anything which would reduce our prospect even to the slightest degree, so that we are not likely to turn to the south. The candidate will most probably come from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, or Missouri."

Platform Fight to Be Spectacular.

With the question of the presidential nomination practically out of the way, the fight over the platform certainly will be the most spectacular feature of the convention. To a large extent it will be a battle over expressions rather than principles.

The democratic platform of 1904 will be a composite affair which will represent to a certain extent the personal views of Alton B. Parker, the probable candidate for the presidency; David B. Hill, who brought him into politics; William Jennings Bryan, the last democratic candidate for the presidency; Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, Parker's only real rival here in St. Louis; and John Sharp Williams, the democratic leader in the house of representatives and the successor to Uncle Joe Cannon if the democrats should carry the house next fall.

Senator Gorman's probable absence will not deprive him of the right to say as to the platform. He has sent on to St. Louis through his alternate, Mr. Poe, a descendant of the poet, a platform which Mr. Gorman thinks will fit the emergency.

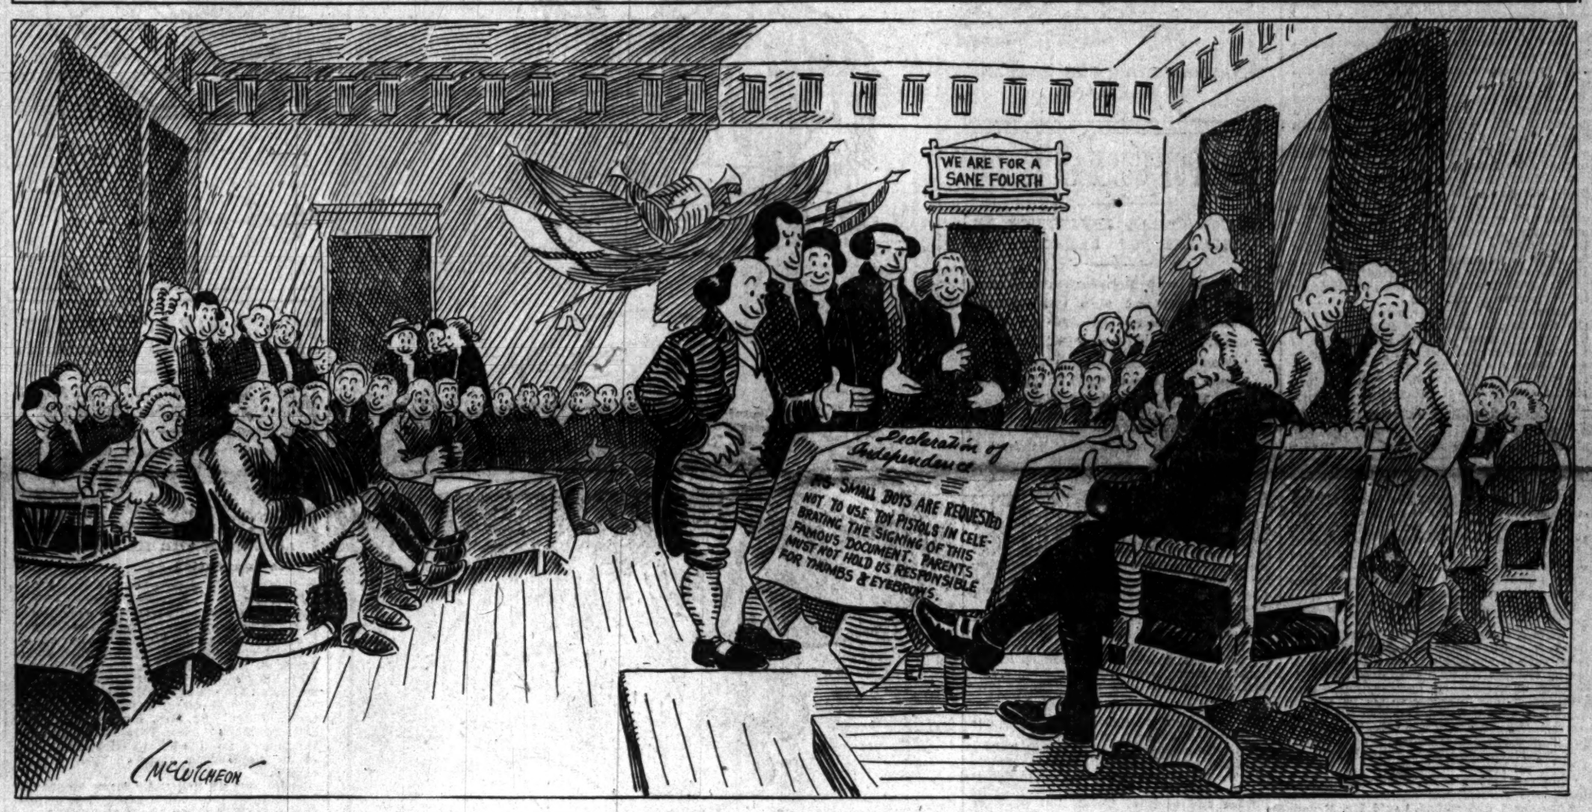
Three Men Will Do the Work.

The actual work of building the platform, therefore, will be done by Hill, Williams, and Bryan, with the assistance of a few others, who will be known technically as members of the committee on resolutions, but who will have little to say after the distinguished leaders from New York, Mississippi, and Nebraska have settled things to their own satisfaction.

It was fully expected that Senator Gorman would be chairman of the committee, but his intention of absenting himself from the convention has interfered with the plan.

SIGNING THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

They Ought to Have Added a Postscript While They Were About It.



and a new chairman will have to be selected. He will be, as I was informed this evening, some one who will not antagonize either faction. Hill and Bryan are to represent the extremes on the money and tariff questions. Those are really the only issues at stake as between the radicals and conservatives.

Bryan wants the reaffirmation of the two platforms of 1896 and 1900, which he assisted in constructing and on which he made his campaign for the presidency. The conservative element, represented by Hill, will not listen to any reference to the Kansas City or Chicago platform.

Bryan Wants Free Trade Plank.

On the tariff Bryan wants a free trade plank. A great majority of the convention prefers a declaration for tariff reform and reciprocity. On the other issues the fighting will be chiefly over the questions of phraseology. The eastern democrats want a short, snappy platform. The southerners are inclined to be verbose. The Mississippi platform which John Sharp Williams has constructed is an unpleasantly long document, and John Sharp himself, although an excellent and able leader in the house of representatives, is given to involve phrases, and has never acquired the knack of saying big things in a few words.

Leader Forecasts Resolutions.

I was given the benefit today of a long, confidential talk with one leader of the convention, a man of national reputation who represents a dominant faction in the convention, and who personally will have as much to say about the framing of the platform as any other individual in the convention. From this source I learn the convention, almost to a moral certainty, can be depended upon to avoid any declaration by which it will single out the Kansas City or Chicago platform as being in any special degree good democratic doctrine.

My authority called my attention to the fact that until four years ago the only time the democratic party had adopted the device of affirming a previous platform was in 1860. Then the democrats were split into two factions. Each was desirous of proving its regularity, and so each of the two conventions affirmed its loyalty to the platform of 1856.

At Kansas City in 1900 Bryan insisted on a reaffirmation of the Chicago platform, which declared that the money devil was the real issue of the campaign. In spite of all Hill and other people could do, however, Bryan wrote into the Kansas City platform a declaration that the imperialistic devil was the more important of the two Satans, so that the two platforms were contradictory.

Former Platforms Ignored.

It has been positively decided by the dominant faction in the convention as the result of a series of conferences which have been largely conducted through the mail, that there shall be positively no reference to any previous platform, and by inference Senator Gorman recently has evolved one of the clever compromise dodges for which he is famous. He has suggested that a plank in the platform should declare the adherence of the convention to the general principles of democracy "which never have been departed from."

This, of course would be a declaration that the financial planks of 1896 and 1900 and the attack on the Supreme court, which were especially odious to the conservative democrats of the country were, none the less, good party doctrine.

The conservatives will not accept this compromise, which amounts to giving a clean bill of health to Bryan and all his populistic associates of the last eight years. They are willing to pass over the whole episode in pitying silence. They will treat Bryan tenderly, and they have no thought of attempting to pass a straight out declaration for the gold standard. The circulation of the report of such an intention has been made for ulterior purposes by Hearst men. When it is remembered that the republican party itself never has made absolutely a direct declaration for the single gold standard, it is easy to see that men like Hill, Sheehan, Belmont, Taggart, and John Sharp Williams, who will represent the controlling element here in St. Louis, will not think of going to such an extreme, because they consider the money question settled for all time by the remorseless course of events.

Divine Power Given Credit.

To express this idea a majority of the convention is more than likely to adopt a plank which will be modeled upon that written by Leader Williams in Mississippi. This Mississippi plank declares that "the democratic party congratulates the country upon the vindication of the democratic contention for an increased volume of real or metallic money in a manner acceptable to all democrats by additions to the world's stock of money metals of two thousand millions of dollars in gold within the last eight years. The fact that this result has been reached by no action of the government, but by the act of God, through human instrumentalities of discovery and invention, does not lessen our gratitude."

This clever idea of depriving the republican party of credit for establishing the gold standard and giving it to almighty God has proved immensely popular among the democratic brethren, who nonetheless charge the industrial depression of ten years ago to the McKinley tariff. Southern democrats, in particular, are rejoicing over the new scheme of praising God and damning the republican party in the same platform. The Mississippi plank will be probably merely a basis for the St. Louis declaration.

Freedom for the Filipinos.

Freedom for the Filipinos is almost certain to be one declaration of the democratic platform. On this point both the radicals and conservatives practically are agreed. Curiously enough, quite a large section of the Parker men are especially pleased with the two paragraphs from the platform written by Mr. Bryan for the Nebraska convention. One of these paragraphs reads:

"The democracy would relieve the country of the menace of militarism and imperialism by following the example set by this country in dealings with Cuba and giving to the Filipinos an immediate promise of ultimate independence."

On this same subject there is another plank, written by Mr. Bryan, which finds favor with a high authority among the Parker element, because of its neat expression of the fundamental principle of the democracy against expansion.

Mr. Bryan's declaration, which also will go into the platform, in substance if not in form, is as follows:

"The administration of the colonial system according to monarchical principles is repugnant to our theory of government and cannot be carried on without the assertion of doctrines which, if carried out, would undermine free government in the United States."

Tariff Will Cause a Fight.

As far as the tariff is concerned, there will be a great fight and a radical difference of opinion, involving charges of desertion of well established democratic principles. The Mississippi plank, written by John Sharp Williams, declares for tariff reform in an ingenious way, and not for free trade at all.

It contains altogether a sermon on the subject, but the germ of the declaration is contained in the statement that conditions demand "conservative and business like revision and reduction of tariff by friends of the masses and the commonwealth and not by friends of its abuses, its extortions, and its discriminations."

The substance of this plank will be adopted, although the phraseology is admitted to be clumsy. Senator Gorman, in writing out the Maryland platform, inserted one of his characteristic compromise dodges, in which he declares the democratic party "will revise the tariff in a conservative spirit of fairness to all interests." This is believed to be sufficiently vague to become the basis of a compromise between tariff reformers and old line free traders.

Mr. Bryan will advocate here next Wednesday night at the meeting of the resolutions committee a radical free trade plank, similar to that he wrote for the Nebraska convention, in which he says:

"The democracy would restore tariff to a revenue basis and administer it for revenue only, thus demolishing the legal bulwarks behind which the predatory trusts have found refuge. Protection for protection's sake is an ingenious device for the exploitation of the masses by the privileged classes. It has brought a great injustice to consumers and has been a fruitful source of widespread political corruption."

The latter part of this declaration is acceptable even to conservatives, but they will eliminate everything which looks towards a declaration for tariff for revenue only.

"Boro-Formalin" (Elmer & Amend) as an antiseptic, cleansing mouth and tooth wash, is unsurpassed.

ATTACKS PARKER; HINTS AT A BOLT.

W. J. Bryan Declares New York Jurist Is in Hands of Wall Street.

SEES DANGER TO PARTY.

Nebraska Man Says Democrats Who Defeated Him in 1896 Must Not Rule.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—William Jennings Bryan had hardly got settled in St. Louis this morning before he put up a plea for the right man and a bolt on the party if the platform or candidates did not suit him. He did not say he himself would bolt, but argued that he or any one else had the right to if he wanted to. He also said he could talk more to the point when the convention was over.

Later in the day Mr. Bryan gave out the following formal statement:

"After conferences with a number of delegates from various sections, I am satisfied that the opposition to Judge Parker is sufficient to make his nomination highly improbable, if not impossible.

"There has been no concentration upon any anti-Parker candidate, but two arguments are having weight with the delegates. Among the radical democrats the feeling is that the party must not be surrendered into the hands of Wall street. The influences back of the Parker candidacy are so intimately associated with the trusts and great corporations that the democratic party could not appeal to the masses. The party cannot afford to intrust its future to the men who were responsible for the party's defeat in 1896 and 1900.

Man Without a Record.

"If Mr. Parker had a record of his own he might be judged upon that record. But as he has refused to speak he must be judged by the record of his political manager, ex-Senator Hill, and his financial agent, August Belmont, and their records. A man who is weak enough to put his candidacy in their hands before the convention would not be strong enough to resist their influence after the election if he were by any possibility successful.

"The second objection is the one that carries weight with the conservative delegates—viz.: that he cannot win. It is becoming more and more apparent that he would prove a weak candidate, and this is robbing him of whatever strength he had among the men whose first desire is to win. With such a candidate the battle would begin with a footrace and end with a rout.

"These two arguments seem quite certain to prove h'a undoing."

In addition Mr. Bryan put forward the recent Nebraska platform as a model the national convention should follow. He announced he would serve as a member of the committee on resolutions, and added that he regarded a good candidate as essential for success as a good platform. As to the Illinois contests, he advocated the cause of Mayor Harrison, and said he would do all in his power to aid him.

The matter of bolting came up in discussing the Illinois situation. Mr. Bryan had said the contests there involved the question of whether the majority should govern, and he was asked whether the same rules did not apply in conventions, and, if defeated, if he should acquiesce in the acts of the majority.

Defines His Position.

"No," said the late candidate for the presidency, "conditions are different. A man who does not believe in the principles or candidates of a party is in the position of a man in this country who firmly believes in a monarchical system of government, while our theory is government by the consent of the governed. He is at perfect liberty to go to some other country where the form of government suits him, and so the individual is at liberty to vote for the party whose principles and candidates suit his ideas if those of his own party do not."

"Suppose he can't find one?" was suggested.

"Such a thing is possible. There may be trusts in politics as well as other things. It is as easy to suppose a party with two tickets as two parties with only one ticket. It is easy to understand how, in the present instance, it may turn out to be the case of Wall street with two tickets. As for voting an opposition ticket, there is high authority for it in the democratic pary."

"Would you remain in the party?"

"No, not remain in the party."

"But the bolters of 1896 are coming back to the party now," was suggested.

"Yes, so I understand," said Mr. Bryan, smiling grimly. "Some of them are returning like the man who married into the family to disgrace it."

Mission Is Twofold.

Asked as to his mission to St. Louis, Mr. Bryan said it was twofold. "I came to use my best endeavors to secure both a good platform and a good candidate," said he.

"Which is the main contention, platform or candidate?" was asked.

"Both are allke important," was the answer. "It is true a good candidate might help out a poor platform and a good platform a poor candidate. But in the present case both are demanded.

"I have accepted the cry of many people who have not agreed with me in the past and am saying let us so act that we can win. To do that we must appeal to the country with principles and candidates of which the people would approve. It would seem to be good politics as well as good morals."

Asked as to what he would favor in the platform, Mr. Bryan said:

"The Nebraska platform is, of course, an ideal platform. Perhaps, however, I speak of it with the pride of the author. So it need not be the Nebraska platform, but it is an ideal one as I look at it."

"How much of that platform could be left out and it still remain a good one?" was asked.

"None of the principles could be omitted. The wording could easily be changed, and perhaps for the better."

It was remked that some of the delegates who preferred Judge Parker for the candidate had said they wanted a platform more explicit than the New York one, especially on the tariff and trust planks, and Mr. Bryan said:

"I should imagine so. Still, the New York platform is an excellent one for people who like that sort of thing."

Will Aid in Illinois Contest.

As to the Illinois contest Mr. Bryan was emphatic. Millard F. Dunlap had stated on Saturday Mr. Bryan might argue the case of the contestants before the national committee or the committee on credentials, or both, and today Mr. Bryan said regarding it:

"I don't know yet how that may be. The Nebraska delegation has honored me by selecting me for its representative on the committee on resolutions, and I could hardly ask to go on the committee on credentials as well. However, I will do whatever I can to help out the contestants in Illinois. Whatever aid I can give I will give.

"I regard the Illinois case as fundamental. It goes to the foundations of our government. In it is involved the right of the majority to rule—the question whether this is government by the consent of the governed or government by force. If the proceedings of the Illinois state convention are to be sustained by the national convention it means the overturning of the methods by which the party has been conducted and the country governed."

Mr. Bryan's first visitors were F. L. Taylor and his wife of this city, who brought with them their three boys, triplets, who had been named after him. One was called William, the other Jennings, and the third Bryan, the trio forming his full name, like the postal cards now on sale which, put together, form the picture of an animal or building. They were bright looking boys, 3 years old, and Mr. Bryan, while patting their heads, said: "It is a triple set of triplets whose parents have so honored me. One set was born in Illinois, one in North Carolina, and this set in Missouri."

SENATOR ARTHUR PUE GORMAN OF MARYLAND.

BOOM FOR GORMAN IS ON.

CONGRESSIONAL INFLUENCE IN BEHALF OF SENATOR.

Colleagues and Representatives Regard Maryland Man Particularly Available as Presidential Timber—Others Discussed as Possibilities—"Band Wagon" Contingent and Those Anxious to "Mix It Up" Features of the Situation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—This has been a Gorman day. All the elements that could be used to aid the Maryland senator have been put forth today. His friends have been in evidence and the strongest arguments brought to bear to show that he ought to be named as the presidential candidate. The congressional influence has been a factor, and senators and representatives and congressional employés, talking and working for Gorman, has given evidence of the popularity of the Maryland senator among those who know him.

Senator Gorman is not coming to the convention and will not enter into a scramble for the nomination, nor will he be a party to a movement to defeat the nomination of Parker for the benefit of some other man—McClellan or Cleveland, for instance.

Gorman's Position Stated.

Mr. Gorman's position was stated by one of his admirers today as follows:

"Mr. Gorman is a candidate, but he is a candidate on his own merits, and a candidate to win. He has no desire merely to defeat the nomination of Judge Parker, with no further end in view. To do that would be to play the part of Samson and pull the house down upon himself, for if he should lend himself to Parker's defeat it is clear that Parker would still be strong enough in turn to cause Gorman's downfall."

Acting in accordance with this policy, former Senator Davis and Col. John T. McGraw declined to participate in the conferences held today for the purpose of compassing the defeat of Mr. Parker. Mr. McGraw frankly announced Gorman's candidacy, but Mr. Davis refused to discuss the question. When told that delegates were putting various constructions upon Mr. Gorman's attitude, he remarked:

"Let it go at that."

The Maryland delegation, including Arthur P. Gorman Jr., arrived during the day, but none of the members of it would undertake to speak for Senator Gorman.

Two Interesting Features.

There has developed two distinct situations without regard to candidates. One is a desire to "mix it up" and have a convention which will be uncertain up to the last moment. The other is a "band wagon" contingent. They want the matter settled as soon as possible and get close to the driver. Thus it happens that delegations with favorite sons are among those who would like to prolong the contest and be among the first to swing for the winning man.

Some uninstructed delegations would be glad of the opportunity to make the presidential candidate if they were sure they could pick the winner. Naturally, the "band wagon" delegates are now counted for Parker, but if it were possible to show them another man who would win they would be ready to support him.

Some Opposition to Parker.

The opponents of Judge Parker raise a number of objections. Hill, as his political backer, and August Belmont, as a representative of the business interests, behind him are said to be unpleasant for many democrats. The opposition of Tammany in New York and of Bryan and Hearst in other portions of the country has some effect. Of all the candidates suggested, Parker seems more objectionable to Bryan and Hearst than any other man, Cleveland alone excepted. Yet several of the delegations under instructions for Hearst freely announce their preference for Parker, and expect to vote for him on the second ballot.

Some Talk About McClellan.

During the day there has been some talk about Mayor McClellan, but it is recognized that his birth in Germany would furnish a small element of uncertainty, while a still greater factor is the solid delegation of New York state supporting another candidate.

Soon after Mr. Bryan's arrival in St. Louis there was some talk about Judge Gray, mainly because a report had been circulated that the Nebraska man would support the Delaware man in preference to any other candidate.

Occasionally the name of Joseph Folk is heard, and it is apparent that Missouri democrats do not want any further prominence given to the young Missouri attorney.

LAY PLANS FOR A STAMPEDE.

St. Louis Club Prepares for Gallery Flag Drill in Cleveland's Interest.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—One of the reports that obtained general circulation here today and created some excitement was to the effect that the St. Louis club had obtained 5,000 American flags, on each of which is a portrait of ex-President Cleveland. At the proper moment, it is said, these will be unfurled in the galleries and used to incite delegates to stampede to Mr. Cleveland. No one could be found who knew the club had taken such steps, but every one is talking about the possibility of such a stampede, and one badge manufacturer at once wired to his New York house to rush Cleveland badges and buttons to this city.

FACTS IN FAVOR OF PARKER.

Managers of His Campaign Advance Many Reasons for Confidence That He Will Win.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—Some of the assurance of the Parker managers on the success of their candidate was based upon a statement made to them by a close supporter of Senator Gorman, who said that the senator had refused to allow his name to be used for the purpose of effecting a consolidation of interests inimical to the candidacy of Parker. It was stated that while Senator Gorman's name would be presented to the convention it would be for the purpose of keeping him groomed so that in case of the failure of the Parker boom he would be available.

Some of the things that the Parker adherents believe are greatly to the advantage of their candidate are: First, that they control by a big majority the national committee, which makes the temporary organization; second, that the temporary chairman of the convention, Williams, is for Parker; and, third, Alabama, giving way to New York, allows the presentation of Parker's name to the convention first.

The manner of presentation of Parker's name to the convention, it is believed, will do much to help gain the votes of uninstructed delegates.

Martin W. Littleton of Brooklyn, a celebrated orator of a type peculiarly like William J. Bryan, and equally as magnetic, will present Judge Parker's name, while there will be seconding speeches from several states. Every preparation for a splendid reception to New York's favorite son has been made and the impression is hoped to carry weight.

HARMON BOOM ASSEMBLING.

Duckworth Marching Club of Cincinnati Will Head Big Delegation for the Ohio Man.

Cincinnati, O., July 3.—The Duckworth club of Cincinnati, with over 100 marching members, leaves tomorrow night for St. Louis in the interest of Judson Harmon.

Many from other parts of Ohio who are not delegates will go to St. Louis in the interest of "Harmon and Harmony," which is the motto on their banners. The Harmon men say they are playing a "waiting game.' They claim if Judge Parker is not nominated on an early ballot, or the convention stampeded for former President Grover Cleveland, that Harmon will be the man.

They refer to Harmon's eminent abilities as a lawyer and jurist, to his pure character and magnetism, and to his "straight" party record as winning qualities. They cite his record of carrying a republican stronghold repeatedly when he was on the Superior bench in this city, and claim now that he would get the electoral vote of Ohio. His name will be presented by Harlan Cleveland, a cousin of Grover Cleveland.

JUDGE ENJOYS QUIET SUNDAY AS THOUGH POLITICS WERE NOT.

Candidate with Family Goes Up the Hudson in Launch to Church and Returns to a Day at Home—Gorman on His Maryland Farm Apparently Hears No Sound of the Strife at St. Louis—Both Will Keep Away from the Convention.

Kingston, N. Y., July 3.—[Special.]—While his friends who would have him made the democratic nominee for the presidency a few days hence were busy with their checkerboard complications in St. Louis, Judge Alton B. Parker spent a brightest Sunday with his family, apparently unmindful that we are on the eve of a national convention.

Going almost direct from the breakfast table, Judge and Mrs. Parker with their little grandchild, Alton Parker Hall, boarded the judge's naphtha launch Niobe and started up the Hudson river on their way to church.

There was an unusually large number of strangers at the church and it was evident that some had taken the opportunity to see the probable candidate for president. Judge Parker spent the remainder of the day at home and received no callers.

Gorman Sticks to the Farm.

Baltimore, July 3.—[Special.]—While the other democratic national leaders are busy at St. Louis Senator Gorman, to all outward appearances, is looking only to his crops on his farm near Laurel, Md. While the train which was scheduled to take him to St. Louis at the head of the Maryland delegation was on its way he was attending to his duties as a thrifty agriculturist, gathering his wheat crop and seemingly not the least concerned about the outcome of the convention.

MAJORITY POLL ANTI-CLEVELAND

Fewer than Half the Delegation Favor Ex-President's Nomination.

NEW JERSEY GIVES IT UP

Decides Not to Present State's First Citizen as a Favorite Son.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—From a poll of state delegations that will be represented in the democratic national convention it appears that former President Grover Cleveland is the second choice of 348 delegates, while 486 are positively against his nomination, and the preferences of more than 100 could not be learned tonight.

This computation disregards the unit rule and attempts to give the individual preferences of delegates. It is based on the supposition that the attempt to defeat the nomination of Judge Parker, which would be the first step toward the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, will succeed.

Necessary to nominate, 667.

Has Not Half Enough Votes.

From this it appears that even with Judge Parker defeated Mr. Cleveland would start with little more than half the number of votes that would be required to nominate him, which indicates that if nominated at all he could be made the candidate of the party only after a long struggle. A wide difference of opinion was expressed by leaders of various delegations regarding the former president. The only states that now appear to be spontaneously in favor of his nomination are his own state, New Jersey, and Illinois and Florida. The Florida delegation is really in favor of Mr. Cleveland, the three Hearst delegates from that state being especially anxious to promote his candidacy. In Tennessee, Alabama, California, Nebraska, and other important states no Cleveland sentiment whatever was to be found.

All possibility of the formal presentation of the name of Mr. Cleveland to the convention appeared to vanish when the New Jersey delegation arrived today and announced that in all probability that delegation would not make an aggressive campaign in the interest of the ex-president. This decision was reached at a meeting held today on the train as it approached St. Louis.

Indiana Against Ex-President.

"Indiana has no second choice," said W. H. O'Brien, delegate at large from that state. "We are for Judge Parker and he is going to be nominated. We shall vote for him under the unit rule until he is nominated."

ELECTORS ISSUE IN ILLINOIS CASE.

John P. Hopkins' Adherents Make Threat in Fight to Seat Delegates.

PLEAS TO BE MADE TODAY.

State Headquarters Are Opened and Committee Placed in Charge.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—What amounts to a threat that there will be no democratic electoral ticket in Illinois this fall unless the Hopkins delegates are recognized will be made to the national committee tomorrow afternoon. It will take the form of a plea that it will be impossible to get the names of the candidates for electors on the official ballot providing the Harrison-Hearst contestants are seated, but the two things amount to the same.

Frank Quinn of Peoria, chairman of the state convention at Springfield, has been putting the matter in shape all day. He is to present the Hopkins argument to the committee when it meets tomorrow to take up the Illinois case. Maj. Tolman, corporation counsel of Chicago, will make the counter argument for the five contesting districts in Cook county, and Judge Thompson of Jacksonville will present the case for the eight contesting districts outside of Cook county.

Hopkins Also Will Make Plea.

John P. Hopkins will use Tom Gahan's proxy and sit with the national committee himself. He says he will not vote on the Illinois case, but will take advantage of his position to the extent of addressing the committee after the lawyers have retired, making a plea in his own behalf. The argument Frank Quinn has prepared is on these lines: Presidential electors for the congressional districts, as well as the two at large, were chosen exactly the same way as the delegates to the national convention. The credentials are precisely the same as those of the fifty-four men who compose the Hopkins delegation here. If these fifty-four delegates were illegally elected, then the twenty-seven electors were illegally nominated. So claims Mr. Quinn.

Now it happens under the state law of Illinois that candidates for any office in order to get their name on the official ballot must be duly certified in the case of the state ticket or presidential electors to the secretary of state—by the officers of the convention which nominated them.

Quinn Explains as to Electors.

"As yet, as chairman of the Illinois state convention," Mr. Quinn said, "I have not certified to the nomination of candidates for presidential electors. If it should result here that delegates to the national convention elected by the state convention are thrown out either by the national committee or national convention, I don't see how I could certify to the nomination of these electors. They were nominated by exactly the same method the delegates to St. Louis were chosen. If the method was wrong in one case it was wrong in the other, and if the delegates are not entitled to their seats then it follows as a matter of course that the electors were not properly nominated."

Without the certification of Mr. Quinn as chairman of the convention the names of the electors could not go on the ballot in Illinois except by petition, and then not under the heading "Democratic ticket." They would have to go in an independent column, a separate one from the one containing the names of the democratic candidates for state, county, and other offices.

Kern for Credentials.

It has been determined that former Congressman John C. Kern of Belleville, representing the Twenty-second district, shall be the Illinois member of the committee on credentials. Mr. Kern is a close friend of John P. Hopkins and is thought capable of taking care of his side of the case before the committee. There had been some talk of Hopkins going on the committee himself, but he preferred Mr. Kern.

Illinois headquarters were opened in the Jefferson hotel today, and a committee of five put in charge. It is made up of Charles Boeschenstein of Edwardsville, chairman; and John Donnelly, Woodstock, and John McGillen, William Legner, and Sheriff Tom Barrett, Chicago.

Lahiff Explains Contest.

Edward M. Lahiff, representing Mayor Harrison, came tonight. He expressed the purpose of the mayor's contest as follows:

"The purpose of Mayor Harrison and his friends in prosecuting the contest is not so much to secure the questionable privilege of securing seats in the delegation bound hand and foot for a candidate to whom they have been and are opposed—not so much that, as to bring into prominence and establish clearly the reasons why Mr. Harrison and his supporters were not in the convention. The people of Illinois know the facts. Democrats throughout the country do not know the details. They will know them before many hours, and if the national committee, the credentials committee, or the convention itself, or all three, should refuse to unseat the Hopkins crowd for technical reasons, facts will have been established that will leave Harrison with more honor before his friends as an onlooker than if he held a seat in the delegation by virtue of the Hopkins gavel.

"Strayed from Bondage."

"The crowd fighting Harrison at St. Louis, as it fought him at Springfield, is acting most naturally in doing so for men of their type. At home in Chicago and Cook county most of these fellows are known and recognized as inmates of a political isolation hospital. They have been condemned to that experience by Mayor Harrison for eight long years. When they escape from their bondage once in a while and stray away to Missouri or New York they are regarded as ordinary politicians, and this through the aid of certain influences which cultivate them and which they cultivate. During the eight years reserved to they have been deprived of many things which it was in the power of Mayor Harrison to grant them, but which the public would condemn him for granting. Of course they are fighting Harrison."

Mr. Lahiff, after looking over the ground and talking with friends from other states, expressed the opinion that Parker's nomination is inevitable.

Other Contests to Be Heard.

In addition to the contests in Illinois, there will be a fight for all of the seats of the delegates from the District of Columbia. The Hearst management claims, in this connection, that arbitrary rulings by the chairman gave the seats unjustly to delegates who are friendly to Gorman.

Practically the same ground of arbitrary ruling is made the issue in the Tenth district of Indiana. Other contests that will come before the committee tomorrow morning are from the Second Maryland district, Twelfth Ohio, the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth districts of Pennsylvania, the Second, Sixth, and Seventh of New Jersey.

MAYOR OFF FOR CONVENTION.

Accompanied by Maj. Tolman and Other Democrats—Ready to Present Contests Today.

Mayor Harrison left last night at 9 o'clock on an Alton train for St. Louis to attend the democratic national convention. He was accompanied by Maj. Edgar B. Tolman, James J. Gray, Ald. Thomas Carey, William H. Lyman, and George Heck. The party occupied a private car. They will arrive in St. Louis at 7:15 this morning. They will occupy rooms at the Planters' hotel.

Accompanying the party is a formidable chest of documents, in charge of Maj. Tolman, which will be presented to the convention committee on credentials at 10 o'clock this morning. On it rest the hopes of Harrison democrats to bring about a sweeping change in the personnel of the Illinois delegation.

TAMMANY IS IN LINE.

LEADER C. F. MURPHY SPEAKS WELL OF JUDGE PARKER.

Says He Opposed Instructions Because He Thought Cleveland the Strongest Man in the Party—Seeks Only Democratic Success at the Polls—Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan Would Like to See McClellan Nominated.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—Tammany's advance guard came tonight. Six trains, carrying the big show, are due tomorrow. Tonight's arrivals comprise the chiefs of the organization. Tammany comes here under instructions to vote for a man it says it does not want. It has gone to many democratic national conventions in the same frame of mind, but this time it is in a different humor. Formerly its leaders and followers always declared the man they opposed could never be elected, because he had no chance to carry New York City by the normal democratic majority. This time there is none of that loud protest. The Tammany people say they don't want Judge Parker, but say nothing about the hopelessness of his cause.

Leader Murphy Tells Why.

Charles F. Murphy, head of the organization, gave out a statement this evening in which he says in his opinion Grover Cleveland would be surer of carrying New York state than any one else, and that the reason Tammany men are opposing Parker is because they do not think he would be as strong as Cleveland. Mr. Murphy said:

"My position is now what it has been constantly. I have said and still say that in my opinion Mr. Cleveland, so far as the state of New York is concerned, would be the strongest candidate this convention could name. Of course I cannot speak for other states, and I have thought that the best result would be likely to be reached by deliberation among the delegates representing all the states, and untrammeled by precommitment or instructions.

Not Unfriendly to Parker.

"For this reason I was opposed to the resolutions of instruction at Albany under any circumstances, although I favored the unit rule by which the final judgment of the delegation, after consultation on the ground, might be made effective as an entirety. It may be that in the country at large some other candidate might be stronger than Mr. Cleveland.

"I am speaking only of my own state and with a sincere desire for democratic success. If at this moment I believed Judge Parker would be as strong before the people of the state of New York as Mr. Cleveland would be I should be the first to urge his nomination, notwithstanding the contest against instructions at the state convention."

"Big" Tim Sullivan Talks.

Congressman Bourke Cockran was even milder than Mr. Murphy, and Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, who was put forward as a rotunda orator, had this to say: "We are instructed for Parker, and that's all there is to it. We are going to vote for him according to our instructions and help elect him if he is nominated.

"As to Mr. Cleveland, we have suggested his name for the reason that we think he is the strongest man the democratic party could nominate. He could carry New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and one or more of the western states. That would elect him."

McClellan Strong Second Choice.

"How about McClellan?" he was asked.

"O that would be too good to be true. Give us McClellan and he would sweep New York. We would elect him. He is just the sort of young man who could make the race successfully. I think I am violating no confidences in saying that McClellan is Tammany's strong second choice."

In the party were Charles Murphy, Congressman Cockran, State Senator Victor J. Dowling, Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, President of the Tax Board Frank J. O'Donnell, Water Register Joseph Savage, Charles A. Towne, Secretary Thomas F. Smith of Tammany Hall, Corporation Counsel John J. Delaney, Secretary of the Fire Department M. A. Downes, Secretary of Parks W. H. Holly, and John H. MacDonough.

As has been said, the big crowd comes tomorrow. It will take six large trains to bring them from New York to St. Louis, and when they get here Tammany expects to have over 2,000 men in line. It will be the biggest turnout the society has ever made at a convention.

PATTISON BOOM IS NURTURED.

Keystone State Delegation Arrives and Receives Assurances from Hawkeye Men.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—The main part of the Pennsylvania delegation, totaling 200 members, arrived at 2 o'clock this afternoon in a special train. Headed by former Gov. Robert E. Pattison, they proceeded at once to the Southern hotel and took possession of their headquarters. Their first duty was to inquire into the strength and quality of the presidential boom for Pattison which they had been informed was awaiting them. The Iowa people, who started the talk for Pattison, came over toward evening and assured the Pennsylvania men they would prefer Pattison to Cleveland, Parker, Gorman, or any eastern man.

During the evening a large number of the delegation forsook politics for the theater. Several of the leaders were guests of Mad. Emmett Newton of the Missouri national guard at Odeon.

Delegates declared the election of Pattison as chairman of the state delegation is practically assured. There appears to be no opposition to James M. Guffey for state chairman.

Among the leaders who arrived on the special were former Congressman B. F. Meyers, State Senators Arthur Dewalt and E. M. Herbst, former State Chairman W. T. Creasy, Charles P. Donnelly, John Cadwallader, Michael J. Ryan, R. E. Wright, William J. Brennan, James Kerr, George McGowan, and James A. Sweeney.

CROKER SAYS NO TO VAN WYCK.

Old Tammany Leader Declines to Use His Influence in Behalf of Grover Cleveland.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 3.—Ex-Mayor Van Wyck's mission to Wantage to have Croker swing Tammany to Cleveland did not prove an unqualified success. Mr. Van Wyck returned to London without obtaining from Mr. Croker a declaration in favor of Mr. Cleveland or even a promise that he would employ his influence with the New York delegation for Mr. Cleveland in the event of a deadlock in the national democratic convention on Judge Parker.

Mr. Croker reiterated definitely that he was out of politics, and did not intend to reenter political life. There is ground for the belief that Mr. Croker was aggrieved by Mr. Van Wyck's mission.

Croker Has Nothing to Say.

A reporter visited Wantage in the afternoon just as Mr. Van Wyck was starting in an automobile for the railway station.

He found Mr. Croker on the lawn, engaged with his son in boyishly chasing a pug dog. He insisted that Van Wyck's visit was purely social.

When asked if he did not have something to say on the eve of the convention he jocosely replied:

"I didn't know there was to be a convention."

When asked whether in view of a split in the democratic party on the choice of a candidate he would not use his influence to straighten out matters he answered, snapping his teeth together while his face grew hard:

"I have done my share of fighting. Others have got to carry it on without my help."

He told the interviewer that he did not intend to return to America to vote this year.

When it was pointed out that this would be the first national convention he had missed in thirty years he replied:

"I won't attend this one nor any other. Over and over for three years I have insisted that I am out of politics. People will begin to realize after awhile that I am telling the truth."

Van Wyck Enjoyed His Visit.

Mr. Van Wyck was at Carlton hotel last night. He said he had enjoyed his visit to Wantage greatly, and he was delighted to see Mr. Croker so well and strong. Beyond that he was silent concerning the trip. He added that he had received cable dispatches from New York and St. Louis which made him more confident than ever that Mr. Cleveland would be nominated. Mr. Van Wyck is going to Carlsbad.

HEARST FRUITS AND EPIGRAMS.

California Headquarters Will Hand Out Apricots and Campaign Literature Together.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—California has established an oasis of fruits and wines in the political desert at the Jefferson hotel. Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, mother of the presidential candidate, sent a carload of fine California fruits from her orchards, and the California delegates have added a display of their native wines, flanked by mineral waters, and the combination is stacked up in a front room of the lobby of the hotel, jointly for exhibition and consumption.

Hearst literature and Hearst fruits will be handed out together. Apricots, peaches, and plums from Hearst orchards and epigrams, arguments, and logic from Hearst brain foundries will be dispensed to delegates having an appetite for either or both.

The display of democratic California liquids is similar to the republican display made by the state in the Auditorium hotel in Chicago a fortnight ago.

Californians Are Energetic.

At present the apricots, plums, and peaches are in boxes, and the epigrams, arguments, and logic are in a stack of pamphlets, but an energetic force of the California Hearst delegates was busy tonight getting the display suitably arranged.

The California delegates are the most active dispensers of Hearst talk who have set up headquarters in the convention city thus far. The name of Mr. Hearst is to be presented by D. M. Delmas of San Francisco, and California, as the native state of the presidential candidate, is shouldering the responsibility for the large amount of talking necessary at this stage of the game.

Al McCabe of San Francisco is secretary of the delegation and in charge of the headquarters. He is one of the enthusiastic Hearst delegates who claim to have no doubt as to the nomination of the editor.

Can Carry California.

"Hearst is the only candidate who has been mentioned who can carry California," he said. "This is conceded by republicans and is believed by democrats. He can carry Nevada, Colorado, Wyoming, and Idaho, and he can carry every doubtful state that any other democratic nominee can. We of California are proud of him, and we are here to do everything in our power to nominate him. It is fitting that his name should be presented to the convention by a delegate from this state."

While the California headquarters are live wires tonight, partly from their prominent location and partly from the exhibition of Mrs. Hearst's gift of fruits, the general Hearst headquarters on the parlor floor of the Jefferson were not so busy.

James K. Jones in Evidence.

Down the corridor a few steps from the general headquarters were the rooms of the national committee occupied by James K. Jones. An interested crowd of bystanders was collected, with craned necks, to get a glimpse of the expansive Jones waistcoat and white whiskers every time the door opened.

This is in decided contrast to the headquarters at the other corner, where the door was not closed at all, and where a cordial delegate from Indiana stood to give the glad hand to any who might wish to enter.

Until 10 o'clock tonight the managers in the Hearst rooms were making every effort to get into connection with Andrew M. Lawrence, who was on the wrecked train at Litchfield, and to secure information concerning the presence of the Illinois delegates on the train. The first reports which reached the convention headquarters were that half the Illinois delegates had been caught in the wreck. After several hours spent in these attempts the managers announced that they had succeeded in getting a message through, saying that no delegate had been injured, and some of the excitement around headquarters was eliminated.

WATSON-ALLEN BOOM STARTS.

Georgian and Nebraskan May Head the Populist National Ticket—Respective Plans Not Determined.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—A movement was started tonight to make Thomas E. Watson of Georgia and ex-Senator William V. Allen of Nebraska, the standard bearers of the populist party for 1904.

Ex-Senator Allen arrived this afternoon, accompanied by a large delegation from Nebraska, and it was not long until his boom was launched for the head of the ticket.

One hundred delegates from Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia, headed by J. O. A. Parker, national chairman of the people's party, arrived, and at once started a boom for Watson for first place on the ticket.

It is understood that Watson will not attend the convention, and the friends of Allen believe that after he makes his fourth of July speech tomorrow at the state arsenal there will be a stampede among the delegates to the Nebraskan for president. Allen is taking no part in the movement and refuses to discuss the question, but his friends declare he will accept the nomination.

W. Williams of Indiana is an active candidate for the nomination, his state delegation being instructed for him. He also is claiming tonight the solid support of Illinois and Iowa, and scattering votes from other states.

One of the sharpest fights in the convention will be for chairman of the national committee. Milton Parks, editor of the Southern Mercury, at Dallas, Tex., and Col. J. S. Feller of Springfield, Ill., are the candidates.

TRIBUNE BEGINS ICE DISTRIBUTION

Tickets Given Free to Destitute, and at Cost to Families Able to Pay.

FUND IS OPENED TODAY.

Plan Inaugurated Last Year to Succor Suffering Will Be Followed.

Following the plan successfully inaugurated last summer, THE TRIBUNE will begin tomorrow the daily distribution of ice in the congested districts of the city.

Beginning today, THE TRIBUNE free ice fund tickets may be had on demand at the same stations where they were obtainable last year. The tickets will be given free to the destitute, and will be sold at the cost price of the ice—1 cent for every ten pounds—to those who are able to pay.

Tomorrow wagons supplied by the Knickerbocker Ice company will start out over the routes mapped out last year, covering the tenement areas of the city.

Work Needs Only Contributions.

President Field of the Knickerbocker company again has kindly consented to aid THE TRIBUNE in its work of supplying ice to the poor. Supt. Bicknell of the bureau of charities once more has undertaken the task of looking after the details of the distribution. The settlements in all sections of the city gladly have shouldered the burden of distributing the tickets to the deserving and the poor.

Again has F. H. Rawson, vice president of the Union Trust company, consented to act as treasurer of the fund. Again THE TRIBUNE asks its generous contributors of last year—its friends and the friends of the worthy poor—to assist in the work. Checks should be made payable to THE TRIBUNE Free Ice Fund and all contributions will be given to Mr. Rawson.

The record made by THE TRIBUNE ice fund last year was, briefly:

Nearly 10,000 poor persons supplied with free ice, more than 1,000 babies helped where death hovered, the death of the stifling tenements, and the dissemination of pasteurized milk to the poor throughout Chicago.

Ice for Every One in Need.

The amount of ice delivered to the milk commission depots and laboratories last year was 388,000 pounds. The number of ten pound deliveries was 16,272. There were 9,176 twenty pound deliveries. The number of families supplied with ice was 1,697 and the number of individuals 8,485.

This year there will be enough ice available for all the babies, the invalids, and the needy in the Ghetto and other congested districts. Five wagons will supply the eight milk depots with ice, six other wagons will make daily tours through the tenement districts, and ice will be obtainable upon the presentation of THE TRIBUNE Ice Fund tickets at the stations of the Knickerbocker Ice company.

Where Tickets Are Obtainable.

The stations at which THE TRIBUNE ice fund tickets may be obtained are as follows:

Gad's Hill settlement, 867 West Twenty-second street.
Elm Street settlement, 80 Elm street.
Hull house, 335 South Halsted street.
Cathedral SS. Peter and Paul, 18 South Peoria street.
Association house, 474 West North avenue.
Bureau of personal service, 510 South Union street.
Henry Booth house, 175 West Fourteenth street.
Maxwell Street settlement, 270 Maxwell street.
Neighborhood house, West Sixty-seventh and May streets.
Olivet house, 46 Vedder street.
University of Chicago settlement, 4630 Ashland avenue.
Forward Movement settlement, 306 West Van Buren street.
Halsted Street Institutional church, Twentieth and Halsted streets.
Northwestern University settlement, Augusta and Noble streets.
Chicago commons, Grand avenue and Morgan street.
Chicago bureau of charities—
Central district, 1500 Wabash avenue.
South central district, 291 Thirty-first street.
Stockyards district, 823 West Forty-seventh street.
Southwestern district, 946 South Ashland avenue.
West side district, 181 West Madison street.
Lower north district, 365 Wells street.

Pure Milk Stations Supplied.

During several weeks, since the first hot weather threatened to sour the pure milk distributed to the poor mothers of infants from the milk commission's stations, THE TRIBUNE has supplied ice to the eight depots. This work will be continued throughout the summer.

The following milk stations now are being supplied with ice:

Association house, 474 West North avenue.
Chicago commons, Grand avenue and Morgan street.
Gad's Hill center, Robey and Twenty-second street.
Gad's Hill nursery, Lincoln and Twenty-second place.
Hull house, 335 South Halsted street.
Northwestern University settlement, Augusta and Noble streets.
Rush Medical Dispensary, 757 West Harrison street.
Settlement house, 783 Armitage avenue.

Tickets Are Sold at Cost.

THE TRIBUNE ice fund tickets, which will be honored by the wagons of the Knickerbocker Ice company, and at the concern's stations and depots, are of two kinds—the "green" ticket and the "pink" ticket. The former consists of eight detachable coupons, each calling for ten pounds of ice. This is sold for 8 cents. The "pink" ticket is made up of eight detachable coupons, each calling for twenty pounds of ice. The cost of this is 16 cents.

THE TRIBUNE fund makes possible not only the purchase of ice for 25 per cent of the regular price but also that it may be bought in small quantities, necessitating the expenditure of only a few cents.

Destitute Are Supplied Free.

It is not intended to deprive those of ice who cannot pay even the nominal price asked, and families in need with babies or illness can obtain complimentary tickets by applying at any of the distributing stations. Thus the ice will be put within the reach of all the poor at a nominal price, and of the poverty stricken free of cost.

MANY FOR SECOND PLACE.

DEMOCRATS WANT STRONG MAN AGAINST FAIRBANKS.

Choice of Candidate for Vice President Will Depend Largely Upon Who Is Chosen to Head Ticket and Upon Geographical Lines—Amazing Array of Material to Select From in All Parts of the Country—Several in the South.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—Within the last twenty-four hours there has been as much talk almost of the candidate for vice president as there has been on the head of the ticket. This in part is due to the fact that a dozen state delegations have put forward the names of favorite sons.

However, the democratic leaders have come to realize that President Roosevelt's running mate is one of the strong men of the country and will command a large following of the business element and vote. Their desire and determination is to try to match Senator Fairbanks with a man of equal standing and ability in the second place on their national ticket.

Geography Cuts a Figure.

So far as is known, there is not now an avowed aspirant in the race and everyone admits, of course, that the nomination will be governed to some extent by the selection of the candidate for president. Geographical interest will cut some figure. In the almost certain event that the convention goes to Parker of New York for the standard bearer, his running mate would, undoubtedly, be taken from the middle west.

The names most prominently mentioned tonight are those of Gen. John C. Black of President Roosevelt's civil service commission and Marshall Field, both Chicago men, E. C. Wall and David S. Rose of Wisconsin, Benjamin F. Shively and John W. Kern of Indiana, David R. Francis of Missouri, and John R. McLean and Judson Harmon of Ohio.

Gossip Extends Far and Wide.

But the gossip extends over a much wider territory. It covers the south and the far west. The talk is that if the convention should eventually deem it wise to go south of Mason and Dixon's line for the vice presidential candidate it would find an array of talent from which to choose.

The name most often mentioned in this connection is Congressman John Sharp Williams of Mississippi. They say that he has made a national reputation as leader of the minority in the house of representatives, and that the democrats of the country generally regard him as the kind of a man they would like to support.

Gen. Black's candidacy was thrown on the canvas this afternoon.

It looked for a time as if Gen. Black's friends had the only real live boom as yet in existence. They have a convincing argument in favor of Gen. Black as the running mate of any man the convention is likely to choose for first place. They call attention to the fact that he would command a large part of the old soldier vote. He is one of the few generals of the rebellion left on the field of action. He is commander of the Grand Army of the Republic and he was honored by President Roosevelt.

Marshall Field Is Popular.

There is a lot of sentiment here behind the talk that brings Marshall Field's name to the front in every caucus and conference held on the vice presidency. It comes from all parts of the country. The more conservative democrats insist that the party must select some such man, and leaders like Thomas Taggart of Indiana say that he is the only one known to the rank and file whose nomination would be unanimously indorsed.

Roger Sullivan is authority for the statement that the Chicago delegation is supporting Mr. Field, and will try to secure his nomination if he will consent to accept.

Harrison Talked Of and Opposed.

Mayor Harrison of Chicago is talked of by his friends, but the Hopkins faction of the Illinois delegation loses no opportunity to discourage every suggestion that Mr. Harrison's name might go before the convention.

Beckham Boom Lively.

Congressman "Bob" Williams of Illinois comes in for a share of mention. The Kentucky delegation put up Gov. Beckham as its choice, and on its arrival began a quiet canvass among the delegates with the intention of working up a lively boom for the young Kentucky governor. But the situation is about as badly mixed as anything could be. There are no candidates in the field asking for the nomination. Any one of a dozen to fifteen men stands in the way of being struck by lightning, and it is said that there are others coming.

Man Beaten to Death.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Edward Zimmerman, 22 years old, was beaten to death last night during an encounter with Samuel Sharp and Hels and James Ely. Sharp's wife, who claims to have witnessed Zimmerman's death, furnished the information to the police today.

The Duluth-Superior Limited.

New solid through train leaves Chicago 10 p. m. daily for Superior and Duluth via the Northwestern Line. Luxurious equipment, including buffet, smoking and library cars, Pullman drawing room sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars, day coaches, and superb à la carte dining car service. All modern devices for the safety and comfort of patrons. Ticket offices, 212 Clark street and Wells Street Station. (Tel. Cent. 721.)

CARNIVAL OF DIN AHEAD OF TIME.

Mayor's Proclamation Ignored and Fourth Celebrated on the Third.

LIST OF VICTIMS BEGUN.

Cannon Crackers and Torpedo Canes Make Noise and Cause Accidents.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT WARNING.

Keep all "fourth of July" wounds open. Have any fourth of July wound, no matter how insignificant, treated by a skilled physician who understands the necessity of thoroughly cleansing the wound.

GENERAL WARNING TO PARENTS.

Disarm your children of all toy pistols and dynamite crackers; do not allow them to set off fireworks in back yards or confined places.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Threatening; probably thunder showers, followed by clearing and cooler Tuesday; brisk south to southwest winds.

In spite of the law and the police Chicago echoed all day yesterday and most of the night with the roar of premature fourth of July celebrations. The result was that the annual harvest of victims was begun twenty-four hours ahead of time. If the third furnished any criterion the fourth will be the noisiest Chicago has endured in years.

The mayor's proclamation prohibiting the explosion of all fireworks except on the fourth was defied as openly as on the day preceding and no effort was made by the 2,000 policemen of the city to enforce it. The downtown streets resounded all day with the booming of torpedoes and the venders of torpedo canes waxed affluent. Along the principal residence streets the celebrators were no less enthusiastic.

The Injured.

Dawson, George, 14 years old, 91 Dearborn avenue; pierced in right thigh by piece of torpedo cane that exploded; operation performed at Passavant hospital; now threatened with lockjaw.

Ehrhardt, Barbara, 16 years old, 177 Gault court, shot in back by boy who discharged a revolver.

Esse, Edward, 112 Bowmanville avenue; run over while trying to stop runaway caused by explosion of cannon crackers; three ribs broken; taken to Alexian Brothers' hospital.

Eisenmachel, Charles, 14 years old, 128 West Twenty-first street, may lose his right eye as result of an explosion of his toy torpedo cane at Halsted street and Twenty-first place.

Hawgood, Alfred, vender of fireworks at State and Congress streets; burned on hands in explosion of his wares, caused by lighted cigar falling among them.

Murray, John, stabbed on head in fight over fireworks; removed to Samaritan hospital.

O'Malley, John, 4334 Union avenue, wounded in leg by stray bullet.

Plesek, Rudolph, 9 years old, 977 Ballou street, wounded in side by accidental discharge of revolver loaded with blank cartridges. Not serious.

Revolver Bullet Strikes Girl.

Reckless shooting of loaded revolvers by three young men may cause the death of Barbara Ehrhardt, 16 years old, who was shot while sitting in front of her home, 177 Gault court. The men fled when the girl shrieked and fell and were pursued for several blocks by small boys, who finally were frightened away by the flourishing of the weapons of the men.

With her parents Miss Ehrhardt was watching a group of small boys exploding firecrackers in the street when the trio, all of whom appeared to be intoxicated, staggered along the street, firing revolvers. The weapons were discharged into the street and sidewalk and the wound may have been the result of a glancing shot.

The bullet entered the girl's back. Physicians who attended her declared the wound probably fatal.

Police Make Some Arrests.

A number of arrests were made for firing revolvers or causing runaways.

Hresniess, Gustave, 6762 South Chicago avenue; arrested and locked up at the Woodlawn police station for throwing dynamite crackers under horses passing his store.

Kohn, Owen L., locked up at Fifteenth street station.

McCabe, William, arrested by Detectives Bowler and Tischart of Lake street station after he had fired several shots from pistol, almost in front of station. Bullets narrowly missed pedestrians.

Obermeier, Louis, 15 years old, 1260 Lake street, arrested at Lake street and California avenue for firing a revolver in the street. He was taken to the Warren avenue station.

Papas, August, 6762 South Chicago avenue; arrested with Gustave Hresniess.

Boy and Bunch of Crackers.

A bunch of cannon crackers and a small boy caused the runaway that resulted in Edward Essa's injuries. The boy was passing the home of John Fahrig, Lincoln avenue and Melrose street, just as Fahrig was preparing to take his family and some friends to a picnic northwest of the city. Three wagons were waiting in front of the house, and the six horses were restive as the firecrackers burst.

The boy was lighting one of the firecrackers when the horses drew his attention. There was a flash and an explosion and the boy fled, flinging from him the other firecrackers, the fuses of which already were ignited. All exploded, and the horses, wild from fright, plunged north in Lincoln avenue.

Two blocks away Essa ran in front of the last team and grasped the bridle of one of the horses. He was knocked down and the wheels of the wagon passed over his body. The horses turned into a blind alley and were brought to a halt, overturning the wagon. The other wagons were overturned a mile further on, entangling the horses in the wreckage.

Dealer's Stock Exploded.

Leading the list of premature celebrations downtown was the one at State and Congress streets at noon, when the combination of cigar and fireworks stock caused trouble. In a large dry goods box Alfred Hawgood had $75 worth of fireworks. At a moment when Hawgood was watching a passing automobile, a cigar end fell among his wares. For ten minutes paper, smoke, and pieces of flying wood filled the air.

A woman who saw the explosion fainted from fright. On being revived she refused to give her name. The person suspected of starting the trouble escaped.

Torpedo Cane Shattered.

The explosive proved too strong for an iron torpedo cane used by George Dawson. For two hours Dawson enjoyed the explosions made by striking his plaything on the pavement. Then the iron was shattered by a heavy charge of the explosive and a piece of the broken metal was driven deep into the boy's right thigh. Physicians fear tetanus may result.

Slashed for Refusing Matches.

Because he refused matches to two colored men intent on exploding a string of cannon crackers at State street and Peck court early in the morning John Murray is a patient at Samaritan hospital suffering from a severe cut on the head. A man giving his name as George Trow was arrested.

Fire Drives Out Residents.

A firecracker thrown on the roof of the two story frame building 1423 Wabash avenue late last night drove the occupants from their beds and into the street in scanty attire. The damage was $150.

Before the rain came late in the night the fire department was kept busy responding to alarms. In the twenty-four hours to 2 a. m. fifty-two alarms were sounded. None caused serious loss.

Santiago Salute Fired.

A salute of guns fired from the headquarters of the Illinois naval reserves, 20 Michigan avenue, at 9:28 o'clock in the morning commemorated the day and hour of the battle of Santiago in 1898. The shots were fired by W. H. Elliott, a former seaman on board the battleship Indiana, from a Springfield rifle, with blank cartridges.

Celebrate in County Jail.

The inmates of the county jail will celebrate under the auspices of the John L. Whitman Moral Improvement association. At 9:30 a. m. Assistant State's Attorney Atwood will speak in the jail chapel, and there will be a program of monologues, singing, and clog dancing by prisoners. In the afternoon there will be athletic events in the corridor of the old jail, including a three legged race and a pie eating contest.

"There was some talk of having Jimmie French, the safeblower, lecture on 'Explosives,'" said Jailer Whitman. "I refused, of course, to consider the proposition."

John Worthy School in Line.

The 409 boys of the John Worthy school will have today for a holiday, according to Supt. Sloan, and will be treated tonight to a $600 exhibition of fireworks on the lawn in front of the institution. The cost of the celebration, he said, will be defrayed by "two public spirited business men."

Several thousand packages of firecrackers and torpedoes will be fired by the boys, but the set pieces of fireworks, which include a picture of George Washington and a reproduction of Niagara Falls, will be handled by experts.

There also will be a general distribution of framed copies of the declaration of independence and prizes given for the best essays on "A City Ordinance and How It Should Be Obeyed." The boy who wins first prize will be recommended to Judge Tuthill for release.

Destitute Are Not Forgotten.

At the Home for Destitute and Crippled Children there will be a distribution of firecrackers and torpedoes, and in the evening the children will be treated to a display of skyrockets, pinwheels, and roman candles.

There will be a celebration this year as usual at the Home for the Friendless, but it will be a sad one for the sixty-two little boys and girls, who compose nearly half the membership of the institution and who are quarantined in the infirmary with diphtheria, whooping cough, and measles. In the evening there will be fireworks for the other children on the vacant square in front of the home.

THOUSANDS TAKE LAKE TRIP.

All Excursion Boats Leaving Packed with Chicagoans, Returning Bring Many Visitors.

Twenty thousand people took a last chance yesterday to get away from the noise and heat of a fourth of July in the city and crowded the excursion boats to the limit of their capacity. The boats returning brought to the city hundreds of residents of the small towns in Michigan and Indiana.

The City of Benton Harbor carried out two loads of passengers, and during the day handled more than ten thousand people. The City of Chicago made two round trips, taking out 3,000 people and returning with 1,200. The Holland and the Puritan both carried heavy loads.

The Christopher Columbus left for Milwaukee at 10 o'clock with 3,000 passengers, and returned late at night with a smaller number. The Iowa, the Virginia, and the City of Racine, making their regular trips, handled the largest crowds of the season. The Goodrich line reported all staterooms sold out for a week to come.

KENTUCKIAN VICTIM OF FOURTH.

R. Lee Suter of Louisville Board of Public Safety Shot by Young Man Celebrating.

Louisville, Ky., June 3.—R. Lee Suter, a member of the board of public safety, an attorney, and for several years an important figure in democratic politics, was shot and killed today by Sanford Vaughn Jr., the son of a wealthy contractor. Vaughn, who admits that he fired the shot, says he was celebrating the fourth.

Suter and a party of friends were camping and fishing. Suter was asleep on a cot, and the bullet passed through his breast, severing an artery.

Vaughn was driving along the river road, and, according to the statements of three young men with him, was shooting from side to side.

PRESIDENT WORKS ON MESSAGE

Letter of Acceptance of Nomination Will Be Strong Campaign Document—Will Discuss the Platform.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 3.—President Roosevelt has begun work on his letter of acceptance, which will contain a discussion of the political events of his administration and his views on the platform adopted by the party at Chicago. It will be one of the important documents used by the republican national executive committee in the campaign. The president and Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by all of their children, in the morning attended Christ Episcopal church.

15 DEAD, 39 HURT IN WABASH WRECK

Chicago-St. Louis Train with Excursionists Crashes Into an Open Switch at Litchfield, Ill.

the injured cared for. Coroner Grace was getting ready for an investigation. Either there has been gross negligence or a deliberate attempt was made to wreck the train. The matter will be thoroughly sifted. That the switch was unlocked and open there is no doubt. Edward Low, the conductor on a Burlington train, picked up the lock. C. L. Corneau, station agent of the Wabash, said:

"The switch was never opened by a railroad man. Some irresponsible person who had a key will be found to have caused the tragedy. The third section of a special Detroit train passed over the track safely half an hour before the wreck."

Chicago People on Train.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]—There were a number of Chicago people on the ill fated Wabash train. Among them were A. D. Wayne, wife, and little daughter, 317 West Sixty-first street, who were riding in the parlor car. They escaped injury, but were badly shaken up and much frightened.

In describing the sensations of the shock, Mrs. Wayne said she and the little girl were thrown from their seats across the aisle and into Mr. Wayne's lap. Immediately they recovered from the first scare and realized there had been a terrible accident. Mr. Wayne rushed out of the car and hurried forward, helping to pull a number of injured people from under the burning wreck.

Fourteen of the passengers who were fortunate enough to be in the rear end coaches were taken aboard the Illinois Central limited and came on to St. Louis. Among them were Mr. Wayne and his family. In describing the scenes and incidents that occurred immediately after the collision, Mr. Wayne said:

"We were all thrown from our seats in the parlor car and became so dazed for a minute or two that none of us seemed to realize where we were. The car was filled with dust, and women and children were screaming and crying. But none of them was hurt. I rushed out, ran forward and helped to pull two men from under the wreck and carry them into a field nearby. Somebody said one of the freight cars was loaded with powder and might blow up at minute. I ran back then, got my wife and little girl, and took them to a safe place.

Personal Effects Burned.

"We had been in St. Louis for three or four weeks, and returned only two or three days ago. We had laid in a trunkful of new clothing, and it was in the baggage car, which, of course, with its contents, was smashed to pieces and burned. My little daughter had a new bicycle, which also was in the baggage car, and upon being told it was broken, she began to cry.

"We implored her not to worry about the bicycle, as a lot of people in the front cars had been killed. She said then the bicycle was nothing as compared to the men, women, and children who had been crushed to death, and then she began to cry for them.

"I went forward again and assisted as much as I could in helping to relieve some of the injured persons. The smoking car and day coach were piled up in a mass, trunks under them were twisted around every which way, and all among the broken timbers I could see the bodies of men and women mashed together and pinned in so there was no possible way of getting them out.

"Within five minutes the whole wreck was afire. The people of the town who had come to the wreck stood some distance away and looked on as if paralyzed, and could not at first make a move to do anything.

"Mrs. Wayne was much worried over a little boy and girl who had been taken out of the car. She said their faces and hands were covered with blood, their clothing torn, and they screamed as if suffering intense pain. But they could not be induced to talk. Mrs. Wayne had heard they had been with their parents, both of whom were killed. She did not know what became of them."

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bachelor of Chicago, who were on the wrecked train, arrived in St. Louis tonight, coming over the Illinois Central.

"We know little about the wreck," said Mr. Bachelor, when seen at his hotel. "We were in the chair car at the rear of the train and it did not leave the track. When the accident occurred the front cars piled up on the engine, took fire, and burned. There were dead and injured people all around, and it seemed to us that there were forty killed but probably the number is not so great. We did not learn the cause of the accident, nor the actual number of the dead and injured, as we took the Illinois Central train for St. Louis soon after the accident."

Mrs. Bachelor has a badly bruised lip as a result of the accident, but beyond that and a general shaking up neither Mr. nor Mrs. Bachelor is injured.

Saw Two Burn to Death.

A. E. Darling of 4956 Forest Park boulevard, St. Louis, was one of the passengers on board the observation car. He said:

"I saw two persons burned to death. One was a man and the other a young girl. I do not know their names. Wreckage held them down until the heat became unbearable, and the men who were trying to save them could not remain another moment. There was another passenger, a woman, whose feet were pinned down by a heavy beam. It could not be moved, and she begged that her feet be cut off. Flames drove everybody away before she could be saved.

"Charles Ward of Chicago showed particular nerve. One of his legs had been torn off. When he was carried out of the wreck he said:

"'Lay me down somewhere and go back and save the women and children.'

"The wounded were mostly taken to private houses in the vicinity of the wreck, and later on those who were able were removed to hospitals."

President Ramsey Has No Details.

"The wrecked train, No. 11, carried the telegraph lines with it, and we have been unable to get much information," said President Joseph Ramsey Jr. of the Wabash when asked for details of the wreck.

"What news I have came by the way of Decatur and is to the effect that the train was derailed at a switch at Litchfield. I presume the accident occurred in the yards, not far from the depot. My dispatch says several people were killed and injured, but gives no specific number. It also states that the engineer, fireman, baggagemaster, and a dispatcher are missing. I suppose this means they are under the wreck. I do not know their names, except that of the engineer, which was Sanford. His home was at Decatur. Three of the cars took fire and were burned. I suppose the fire was started from the engine, as there was no fire in the cars.

"I do not know who the missing dispatcher is. He must have been riding in the engine or baggage car. A relief train carrying physicians and medicines was made up at Decatur and sent to the scene of the wreck. General Superintendent H. L. Magee departed on the first relief train."

President Ramsey received the following telegram tonight from S. E. Carter at Litchfield:

"From the best information I can get upon arrival here, there are about fifteen killed and twenty-five injured. Engineer Sanford is killed. Dr. Parish of the Decatur hospital is in charge of the injured and will run them to Decatur as soon as he is ready to receive them."

CHICAGOANS KILLED IN WRECK.

Two Lose Their Lives When Wabash Excursion Train Meets Disaster at Litchfield.

Two of the dead in the Wabash wreck at Litchfield, Ill., yesterday afternoon are residents of Chicago.

L. A. Eichstaedt, one of the victims, was employed as a clerk at 85 West Jackson boulevard, and resided at 1064 South Albany avenue.

Mrs. Thomas Perkins, 5721 Union avenue, was another killed while on her way to the exposition. Her husband was prostrated when he received the news of her death at 10 o'clock. She left two daughters and one son.

Alois Gehrig, his wife and grandson, who were injured, were on their way to St. Louis, where their son, William Gehrig, was to enter the Roman Catholic priesthood today. They took their young grandson with them because he was the godson of the young man who is to take his religious orders today. The Gehrigs reside at 4853 Ashland avenue. Mr. Gehrig is a retired chemist, 60 years of age, and his wife is 55.

Mrs. Gertrude Kitt, 1546 Wabash avenue, and her two children, Mary, 12 years old, and Joseph, 9, who were injured, were on their way to visit Mrs. Kitt's son, Leopold Kitt, who is studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood in St. Louis.

750 DROWNED ON EMIGRANT SHIP.

Steamer Norge from Copenhagen for New York Strikes Rock Off Coast of Scotland and Sinks.

I got and we cleared the ship. Luckily for us, in our party was the only seaman from the Norge who escaped and he was able to navigate our little boat.

"We saw two other boats capsize owing to the heavy weather and because no one could navigate them.

Captain Stuck to His Post.

"We made straight away and when we last saw the Norge a large number of emigrants were on the deck. Capt. Gundel stood on the bridge.

"Dozens of passengers had jumped into the sea. They wore life belts, but were drowned before our eyes.

"After twenty-four hours the Salvia bore down and picked us up.

"About 700 persons must have been drowned.

"For some hours we rowed in company with the other boats, but the strong tide drifted us away from the others and nothing has been seen of them since. The Salvia picked us up and we were well cared for on board the trawler. All of us lost our entire belongings. We had no time in that fierce fight for life to think of anything but the getting of seats in the boat."

Ship Was Built in Scotland.

The Norge was built by A. Stephen & Son, Glasgow, Scotland, in 1881, and was formerly Pieter de Coninck. It was of 3,318 tons gross and 2,131 tons net register. The hull was of iron and the ship had six transerve bulkheads. In dimensions the steamship was 340.3 feet in length, 40.8 feet breadth of beam, with a molded depth of 25 feet.

The ship had a single screw, two cylinder compound engines of 346 normal horse power, giving it a speed of about twelve knots. The Norge had three pole masts and quarters for the better class of passengers were placed amidships.

The Norge was owned by the Thingvalla Steamship company, which operates the Scandinavian-American line from New York to Norway, Sweden, and Denmark.

May Be Chicagoans Aboard.

It is not believed among Chicago Scandinavians that many, if any, Chicago persons or Scandinavian-Americans were among those that went down with the Norge. Although many have taken advantage of the low rates offered by the steamship companies this year to make the trip to Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, it is said those who have gone will not return before autumn.

"I do not believe any Chicago persons were among the passengers on the Norge," said B. Lundberg of A. Mortensen & Co., general western passenger agents of the Scandinavian-American line. "Those who are on a visit to the old countries would not be returning at this early date. Many on board undoubtedly were coming here to relatives or friends already in this country, but who the latter are we do not know, because no inquiries have been made."

Tourists Delay Their Return.

Nicolay Grevstad, editor of Skandinaven, a Norwegian daily newspaper, said he did not believe any Chicago persons went down with the Norge. Those who have gone to visit friends and relatives in Norway, Denmark, or Sweden, he believed probably would not return so early in the season.

"From now on is the most delightful time of the year in the north and the saving on steamship rates the majority of them made this year gives them an opportunity to extend their stay beyond that of previous years, when the rates were higher."

Boat One of Oldest on Line.

A. Crook of Mortensen & Crook, agents for the Scandinavian-American line, declared it his belief that the 700 passengers on the Norge were emigrants never before in this country. He said the boat was one of the oldest in the service of the company, having been bought from the White Star line many years ago. It was put in commission for passenger service when the Scandinavian-American line absorbed the old Thingvalla line.

"The Norge is similar to the old Thingvalla of the old Thingvalla line. When the Scandinavian-American line absorbed this line the Thingvalla was sold, and I believe it is now a freight boat."

The Thingvalla is the boat that collided with the Geyser of the same line sixteen years ago, sinking the latter vessel, with nearly a thousand passengers aboard. The disaster occurred in a fog in the Atlantic ocean.

Trip Abroad Is a Custom.

It has become a custom for Scandinavian-Americans to visit their fatherlands every spring. During April and May hundreds return to spend the summer with their friends and relatives left across the water. When they return in the fall many of them bring with them parents, brothers, sisters, or friends, who wish to try their luck in America.

National Life of Chicago Denied Point.

Topeka, Kas., July 3.—[Special.]—United States Judge Pollack has denied the application of the National Life Assurance company of Chicago for an order restraining S. P. Nold of Seneca, Kas., from trying to collect on bonds issued by the National Life Trust company of Des Moines, the business of which was purchased by the National Life. Nold represents 120 bondholders. The bonds amount to $13,000.

The great pre-inventory clearance sales begin Tuesday

THE general pre-inventory clearance sales at Mandel's are recognized by all Chicago as pre-eminently the bargain event of the year. Year by year a greater amount of merchandise has been disposed of at these sales. Year by year the reductions in price have become more remarkable. Year after year the standard of quality has been maintained at the highest notch. The present sales record a conspicuous advance on their predecessors. In the quality and quantity of the merchandise, and in the price concessions which we make, we promise a pleasing surprise to the men and women of Chicago. The vigorous overhauling of our enormous range of merchandise means a saving to the public of many thousands of dollars on the most desirable and indispensable articles. Absolutely no garment, yard or piece of this season's goods shall be carried over. You cannot afford to neglect the advantages these sales offer.

To illustrate more vividly the marvelous extent of the money-saving opportunities placed before our patrons, we cite as representative values: $2 and 2.50 Paris dress goods at 85¢; 40¢ Scotch madras at 17¢; 3.50 W. B. erect form corsets at $1; $20 and $30 shirt-waist suits at 9.75; women's 3.50 oxfords at 2.35; 75¢ silk crepe de chine at 39¢; $1 gunmetal silks at 58¢; 7.50 handkerchief linen shirt waists at 3.75; women's $15 dress hats at $5; women's $1 all-silk lace mitts at 25¢; 4.50 Battenberg lace curtains at 2.95; men's 1.50 negligee shirts at $1; $25 and $30 parasols at $5; 33⅓% off fine leather handbags; 25% off hand-made lace collars; men's $30 and $35 suits, $15; women's 1.25 hosiery, 75¢; $10 white pique embroidered robes, 3.98; $25 runabout suits, covert, cheviot, voile, at $8; 95¢ cream appliques for 25¢; sweeping price reductions on thousands of pieces of furniture, and other equally strong values.

MONDAY, JULY 4, 1904.

THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN SITUATION.

The growing ambition of the Hungarian people for complete independence of Austria will be intensified by the latest utterances of Count Apponyi, president of the lower house of the Hungarian parliament and leader of the national liberal party. He has contended that the individuality of the Hungarian nation must be recognized by the establishment of an independent Hungarian royal court at which the ruling Hapsburg monarch shall pass a considerable time each year, instead of residing exclusively at Vienna. He has urged that Hungary make its own treaties with foreign states; that Hungarian officers be employed in Hungarian regiments, that the Hungarian flag and coat of arms be adopted, and that the Hungarian language be used in regiments made up of Hungarian recruits. He also regards "a customs division between Austria and Hungary as a condition of Hungarian economic progress."

Trouble between Austria and Hungary has been brewing since the failure to renew the Ausgleich in 1897. This is the fundamental bond of union between the two independent monarchies, being the agreement by which are determined the proportional contributions of the two countries to the common expenses. The Ausgleich was the basis of the dual monarchy in 1867 by which the empire of Austria and the kingdom of Hungary became one constitutional nation under the wing of the Hapsburg-Lorraine dynasty. It was renewed each ten years up to 1897, when the constantly diverging interests of the two nations as separate economic unities made it impossible to effect a satisfactory renewal. Failure of the two parliaments to reach an understanding on which the Ausgleich could be renewed led to its formal abolishment in 1899. A joint commission arrived at a compromise in that year by which the differences were patched up and an agreement was made by which Austria paid 65.6 per cent and Hungary 34.4 per cent of the common expenditure in excess of the receipts from customs.

The negotiations between the Austrian and Hungarian premiers since then have disclosed the abiding conflict between an industrial and an agrarian people on the subject of a tariff. Austria is becoming industrial while Hungary is primarily agricultural. The Hungarians demand high tariffs on cereals, wool, hemp, flax, and other agricultural products. Austria contests such high tariffs on raw materials because they threaten her industries which have to compete in free markets abroad. At the same time Hungary refuses to increase the duties on manufactured goods, thus depriving Austria of the protection which she needs in her own markets. As additional provocation Austrian goods are discriminated against in Hungary by means of differential freight rates favoring Hungarian manufacturers.

This antagonism on the question of a common tariff has raised a popular desire for economic separation, and "divorce" has become the cry of the radical parties in each country. A temporary truce has finally been effected, but the leaders of the Hungarians are firm in their demand for a separate tariff.

Racial as well as economic antagonism has been developed between the two monarchies. The Hungarian nation is more homogeneous than the Austrian. It might be said that there are no Austrians, but it cannot be said that there are no Hungarians. A Balkan statesman once remarked that Emperor Joseph was the only Austrian in Austria. There is no preponderating race in Austria. There are Germans, Bohemians, Galicians, Moravians, Poles, Slavs, Czechs, Serbs, Slovenes, and other strongly individualistic races. But in Hungary the Hungarians proper or the Magyars constitute the larger part of the population. Hungary, conscious of its greater solidarity, made up of a race which is proud of its history and jealous of its customs, is naturally resentful of the arrangement which makes the German tongue the official language of the common army.

When in 1902 the government proposed an increase in the army, the Hungarian diet refused to vote additional recruits save on the condition that in the future the Hungarian language be used in Hungarian regiments and that these same regiments be officered by Hungarians. The refusal of the emperor to accede to these demands has given the independence party an additional battle cry and since then the cry of "Hungary for the Magyar" has been more shrill than ever. One of the leaders of this party is Francis Kossuth, son of Louis Kossuth, the famous Hungarian patriot who led the forces of Hungary in the revolution of 1848.

But the growing disaffection of Hungary is but one of the troubles of the Hapsburg monarchy. Austria is torn with racial dissensions. For four years the efficiency of the Austrian parliament was blocked while the various racial issues were in dispute. The language question between the Czecks and Germans took up one entire session. It was proposed to divide Bohemia into language zones, in part of which the German language should be used and in the balance the Czeck. The Czecks insisted that their language was the only one which could become the official language in Bohemia.

Besides the Czeck-German controversy there are other serious race questions in Austria. Italian irredentism is discussed. The Poles are longing for a new Poland, united and independent. The Roumanians urge a reunion with the mother country. The Ruthenians are restive. The Slavs of the south, the Serbs, Slovenes, and the Croats anxiously await the solution of the Balkan question to reconstitute the disparate Slav states. The Pan-Germanic propaganda is carried on openly with funds collected in Germany, though it is difficult to see why Germany should wish to take over the racial boiling pot of Austria. The official and popular opinion of Germany is opposed to the agitation of the Pan-Germans. It was Bismarck who said that if Austria did not exist it would have to be created, or, in other words, that Austria holds together a number of rival races in central Europe that can be attached to no other country.

It is this feature of the Austrian empire, this hodge podge of races which produces constant discord, that will be the strongest reason against the dismemberment of the Austro-Hungarian empire. The dangers of separation are more to be feared than the pangs of internal strife. United these races become a first class military power. Separated, they would be unable to resist their powerful and land hungry neighbors. Even Hungary will consider the possible annexation by Russia before it deserts Austria.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

The Cigar Makers' International union is celebrating its fortieth birthday by considering the advisability of establishing yet another method of providing pensions for the veterans of industry.

Two methods have already met with favor in various parts of the world. One relies on governmental aid and regards the nation as a mutual economic enterprise, the success of which should mean a comfortable old age for all who have participated in it. This method has met with the greatest popular approval in Germany and in Australia.

The second method has been adopted even in the United States. It commends itself to the large corporations. The employé who faithfully serves the industry with which he is connected through a term of years is rewarded at the conclusion of that term by a pension large enough at any rate to keep him from the poorhouse.

The cigar makers bring in a third method. If the plan suggested by their officers is adopted the aged workman will look for his pension not to the nation of which he is a citizen or to the industry in which he has been an essential factor but to the voluntary organization in which he has held a card.

The second and third of these methods are beyond objection and they meet a need which no observer, either of human nature or of modern industrial life, will gainsay.

Human nature is such that it cannot be depended on to make adequate provision for the contingencies of age. In medieval times the workman, as a serf, was sure of subsistence throughout his life because he had a plat of land which no political or economic tyranny, through any process of law, could take away from him. In modern times the "job," which has taken the place of the plat of land, can easily be lost, and its aged, improvident holder then finds himself exposed to a poverty which is as onerous to him as to the charitable agencies which are called on to relieve him and to the state which suffers from the presence of an impoverished and irresponsible class.

In getting a pension after years of service in an industry or of membership in a union the workman does not really lay himself open to the frivolous charge sometimes urged against pension schemes that the recipient of a pension is getting something for nothing. The money forming the pension fund is all contributed by the men belonging to the industry or to the organization among the outworn servants of which it is divided. A universal compulsory pension system, if such a thing were imaginable, would simply mean that every human being would be obliged every year to make such a contribution out of his earnings to a general fund as to provide for himself a competency in his old age and as to protect society from being obliged to succor his improvidence out of its own resources.

OUKHTOMSKY.

When Russia reckons with her statesmen, there is Oukhtomsky. Incidentally, he is editor, scholar, traveler, and polished prince of the realm. A head in the war party, nevertheless he was the one representative of the Russian press who came to the press parliament at St. Louis a few weeks ago. Closer to his emperor than is almost any other man in Russia, it was his paper, the St. Petersburg Vyedomosti, that received its "second warning" from the ministry of Von Plehve, just after the prince had landed in New York. Firm as an adherent to the czar's government, he still preaches equity and humanity in its administration and opposes the corruption of the bureaucracy.

At the age of 43 Prince Esper Esperovitch Oukhtomsky is a large figure in that small group which stands at the top of Russian civilization. His prestige has come since the succession of Czar Nicholas. The day after the young Nicholas was crowned, Durnovo, then minister of the interior, assigned Oukhtomsky from one of the minor positions in the department to one of the most lucrative and pleasing of posts. Up to the time of Nicholas' accession Durnovo had failed to recognize Oukhtomsky's services. There was point, therefore, in the sarcasm with which the czar, while signing the new Oukhtomsky commission, congratulated Durnovo on his sudden discovery of concealed talent.

Oukhtomsky had accompanied Nicholas, when he was czarevitch, making the memorable tour of Egypt, India, China, and Japan, thirteen years ago, and their friendship is such that Oukhtomsky alone, of all the Russian publicists, ventured to the St. Louis gathering against the advice of Count Lamsdorf.

The Asiatic tour was the beginning of Oukhtomsky's belief in the necessity of Russian influence in central Asia. No later than in the current issue of the North American Review he contributes an article showing Russia slow in allowing Great Britain to make advances in Tibet. It has been Oukhtomsky's view that an alliance between Russia and China should be desirable, and that Russia's interests in Tibet were beyond those of Great Britain.

Active in politics and in letters, Prince Oukhtomsky is the head of the Russian-Chinese bank which has excited so much British jealousy, and he is a high official in the Chinese Eastern railway. When he was sent by his emperor to China after the boxer troubles Germany was disturbed. Only a short time before the prince had published in his newspaper the charge that the boxer troubles were due to the Germans. One cause of those troubles, he alleged, was the "foolishness and discourtesy of Prince Henry" when at Pekin, and another was the same disposition shown by the German envoy, Baron Ketteler.

This is the Russian who has come to the United States at a time when "American sympathy for Japan" is on the tongue of the world. It is his second visit, quiet as the first, and as observant. Before its results are complete the Vyedomosti may have its third warning from the Von Plehve ministry. Oukhtomsky's mere visit has been displeasing, save to the emperor, and some of his utterances regarding the United States may not be conventional. But he is of the war party. He is for war until it is sure that Russia never shall let go of Manchuria and of the far east.

WHEN in the course of human events it becomes necessary for a nation to celebrate another birthday anniversary a decent respect for the sanctity of human life requires that it should remember how 466 persons were killed and 3,983 other persons injured in a previous "celebration."

IT is barely possible that Mr. Cleveland still underestimates the extent of that curious and absurd prejudice entertained by the American people against a third term.

Lesson Applied.

[From the Philadelphia Ledger.]

A little girl who made frequent use of the word "guess" was one day reproved for it by her teacher, who said:

"Don't say 'guess,' Mary; say 'presume.'"

A few days later one of Mary's friends, coming up to her, remarked:

"I think your cape is pretty, and my mother wants your mother to lend her the pattern, because she is going to make me one like it."

"My mother has no pattern," was the prompt reply; "she cut it by presume."

New Army Regulation.

[From the New York Press.]

If the navy does not press forward in the matter of personnel it may be distanced by the army, which has made rapid strides since 1899. Here is a recent order which is recommended to the navy if the latter would broaden a bit: "When an officer has been suspended from promotion for one year on account of failure in his professional examination, no officer of his branch of the service who served upon the board which found him deficient shall be a member of the board which reexamines such officer."

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1904: By the Marquise de Fontenoy.

CHARITY covers a multitude of sins—in these modern times—and munificence in good works consigns to oblivion the questionable means by which the money devoted to philanthropy has been obtained. It is a pity, however, that the Brigade of Guards in England, the officers of which constitute, according to King Edward, members of the royal household, do not share these liberal views of their sovereign, which are likewise those of the majority of his brother monarchs on the continent. For the officers of the Brigade of Guards, and more particularly those of the grand old regiment of Scots Guards, have demanded and obtained the retirement from the brigade and from the army of their adjutant, Lieut. Montague Hill, on account of his impending marriage during the course of the present month to Mrs. Sam Lewis, widow of the well known usurer, and who was presented at one of the recent courts at Buckingham palace to the king and queen.

The young officer is a scion of that house of Hill of which Lord Hill is the chief, and served under Lord Methuen with his regiment in south Africa, distinguishing himself at the battle of Belmont and being wounded at the battle of Modder river.

Mrs. Sam Lewis is a handsome woman, occupies a beautiful house in Grosvenor square, has a box at the opera and a villa on the Thames at Maidenhead, and entertains extensively. Since the death of her husband four or five years ago she has been most liberal in subscribing to those charities in which the king and queen are more particularly interested, and for two years has been contributing $50,000 per annum to King Edward's hospital fund, which is the favorite of all the philanthropic enterprises of the monarch and of his consort, destined as it is to relieve the metropolitan hospitals from the terrible burden of debt with which they are now both incumbered and crippled.

Keenly appreciative of this munificence the king some time ago gave his consent to the presentation of Mrs. Lewis at court, and she was presented at one of the courts to their majesties by Lady Farquhar, who stands particularly high in their good graces, and whose husband, Lord Farquhar, is master of the royal household. It is just to add that there is nothing in the antecedents or in the behavior of Mrs. Lewis to render her unworthy of this distinction, save that she is the widow of the most noted money lender of the last forty years in London—a man who ruined thousands—and that her large fortune—her husband left her something like $22,000,000—is entirely derived from the proceeds of usury.

Sir George Lewis, the celebrated London lawyer, who is credited with being possessed of the family secrets of more than three-quarters of the entire British aristocracy, in his evidence before the parliamentary committee on money lending, and subsequently in a letter to the London newspapers, denounced Sam Lewis as the most extortionate and the worst of all usurers, declaring that Sam had commenced his career by discounting bills for undergraduates of the university at Dublin at 60 per cent, part cash and part pieces of jewelry.

With all that Sam Lewis, at whose door a large number of the houses of the English nobility lay the responsibility for their ruin, was an amusing and entertaining man, excellent company at dinner, and occasionally a guest at the houses of men belonging to the smart set who cared more about sport, entertainment, and interesting company than for the "qu'en dira-t-on" of the world. Thus he often dined with that well known racing baronet, Sir Frederick Johnstone, King Edward, while still prince of Wales, being on one occasion among his fellow guests. Sam Lewis' principal delectation was, however, playing at Monte Carlo, where he almost invariably won, repeatedly breaking the bank there.

I may add that Mrs. Lewis, who is now about to become Mrs. Montague Hill, does not restrict her charities entirely to those of England or of her native land, which is Ireland. For some time ago she sent a large donation to some philanthropic fund at Constantinople, in acknowledgment of which the sultan conferred upon her the grand cordon of his order of the Cherkat. She is a sister of Miss Hope Temple, the well known song writer, now married to André Messager, the Parisian musician.

The intimation by King Edward that the officers of the Brigade of Guards were members of the royal household was made a few years before Queen Victoria's death, when a liberal administration was in office, and the liberal master of the buckhounds had neglected to send cards to the officers of the guards for the royal inclosure at the Ascot races, declaring that he had none to spare. The prince of Wales, as he was in those days, got angry, pointed out that the royal inclosure at Ascot was intended primarily for the members of the royal family and of the royal household, and only secondarily for the friends and acquaintances of the master of the buckhounds, adding that the officers of the guards were officers of the royal household, the brigade being, indeed, officially known as the Household brigade.

King Edward's gracious reception of Gen. Booth, the chief of the Salvation army, in private audience at Buckingham palace, in connection with the International Salvationist congress, which has just been taking place in London, is quite in keeping with the friendly attitude of Queen Victoria toward the Salvation army movement. When at the time of her last jubilee a message of congratulation and of good wishes was sent to her by the chiefs of the Salvation army she addressed a most kindly and sympathetic reply in person, directing it to "General" Booth, thus according official and royal recognition to the title which he has assumed. Like the authorities all over the world, she realized that the Salvation army, although its methods may not commend themselves to all, nevertheless accomplishes an immense amount of good, especially among the poorest classes, and that as such it is deserving of encouragement and of kindly recognition. In Holland both Queen Wilhelmina and her mother have shown themselves equally well disposed towards the Salvation army, and in Sweden Queen Sophia and her son Oscar, who renounced his royal rank and his right of succession to the crown to marry Miss Ebba Munk, have actually joined the movement, and are enrolled on the roster of the Scandinavian contingent of the army.

The idea of the scheme—if not in its religious, at any rate in its philanthropic and economic features—originated with the American Count Rumford, who was born as Benjamin Thompson at Woburn, Mass., started as errand boy to a storekeeper at Salem, was afterwards salesman in a store at Boston, schoolteacher at Bradford on the Merrimac, major on the staff of Gov. Wentworth of New Hampshire, under secretary of state in England, then in turn a colonel and a general in the English service, knighted by King George III., minister of war and grand chamberlain to the king of Bavaria, count of the holy Roman empire by creation of the emperor of Austria, founder of the Royal Institution in England, and died as husband of the widow of Lavoisier, the celebrated French chemist. His memory is commemorated in this country, among other things, by the Rumford professorship of the Harvard university.

For the first time within the memory of the present generation in Austria the time honored procession of the emperor, the archdukes, the great civil and military dignitaries of the realm and of the clergy through the streets of Vienna did not take place on Corpus Christi day, although all preparations had been made for the ceremony, even to the extent of the route through which the cortége was to have passed being lined with troops.

It is understood that the police were warned at the last moment that some attempt might be made by the anarchists upon the life of the venerable monarch, who, instead, drove quietly by another route with the heir apparent to the St. Stephen's cathedral to receive the sacraments at the hands of the prince archbishop. Superstitious people in Austria regard the abandonment of the procession as an omen of evil.

Unpleasant.

The spectacle of Reginald Vanderbilt disguising himself and escaping in an automobile from the officers who were seeking to serve him with a subpœna in the Canfield gambling case is not pleasing. His flight is not complimentary to his morals or his citizenship.—Columbus Dispatch.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

The Making of the Flag

How did we make the flag?
By rule?
By compass, and square, and line?
With pattern, and thread, and the sempster's tool,
To follow the plain design?
Was it only the lore that the draftsmen knew
That gave us the red, and the white, and blue?

How did we make the flag?
Not all
By measuring stitch and seam;
For part of it came from a country call
And part of it is a dream—
Is a vision that led brave souls aright,
And gave us the red, and the blue, and white.

How did we make the flag?
In peace
We fashioned it fold on fold;
In war it was blent with the grim caprice
The drums in their summons rolled.
'Twas the courage alike of the quick and dead
That gave us the blue, and the white, and red.

How did we make the flag?
'Twas thus
It came to its grace and worth;
Through all that is good in the souls of us
The banner has had its birth;
'Twas the holier strength of the purpose true
That gave us the red, and the white, and blue.

Thus have we made the flag.
Ah, no!
By colors that will not fade,
By sinuous sweep and by deathless glow,
'Tis us that the flag has made!
And it whispers today to each star told state:
"You must hold me high and must keep me great!"

Matma	Miss Marie Dahlgran
Shoka	Fayette F. Farr
Deuteronomy	No ordinary dog

In downright prettiness—music, stage pictures, costumes, ensemble—"The Forbidden Land," as shown last night at the Illinois theater compared most favorably with the lighter, more fragile class of musical pieces produced in Chicago in the last three or four years. In substance and action, however, it was frequently barren to the point of skeletonization, and its future will depend entirely on the success of its sponsors in building it up from its present frame.

Mr. Steely's libretto in so far as it has supplied the piece with its pictorial form, is useful and in some of its ideas ingenious. But the bricks of witty lines and adroit stage business with which the walls of the piece should have been constructed are wholly lacking. Except in the structural sense, there hardly can be said to be a libretto. With the lyrics Mr. Seely, however, has had much more success, and here, also it has been his good fortune to receive the best aid of Mr. Chapin. Not one but several of the songs are catchy enough to be shaped into hits.

The pleasant peculiarity of last night's performance, moreover, was that in spite of the apparent thinness of the entertainment it was not a bore. At the end the auditor had the feeling that he might have been more strenuously amused, but he was not in a complaining mood.

That impression really ought to spell good luck for the piece. Speed, speed, speed everywhere—that is the first recipe for the remodelers. After that, interpolations, added dialogue, and increased work for all the leading players.

Last night the successor, with one marked exception, were those of the chorus over the principals. A better drilled, better garbed, more attractive, and more tuneful chorus rarely has graced the first night of a comic opera.

Contrariwise, rarely has such an occasion seen the higher salaried players in less conspicuous parts. Joseph Herbert, by name chief comedian, had nothing to do but wander aimlessly about and talk about some brand or other of breakfast food. If one humorous line fell from his lips last night it did not get over the footlights to the audience.

Alma Youlin, in a song of sentiment, "Love at First Sight," in the first act, had an admirable lyrical opportunity, and she took good advantage of it. That was her sole appearance as far as chance for individuality went, however, during the entire act. In the second act she had one more song, and that was the limit of the use made of her beauty and her excellent voice.

The exception to the hiding of lights behind the scenes was in the case of Miss Ethel Johnson. This clever young woman, whom the public has liked ever since her first entrance in the rôle of Patsy in "The Tenderfoot," almost stormed her audience last night. One says almost in the belief that the qualifying word can be dropped some night soon, when she has injected into her rôle the abandon not quite possible under the nervous strain of a first night. Her rôle is a character drawing of a sentimental Swedish servant girl, in love with her master, the seller of breakfast foods. Her drollery is fetching, and withal she has the chance for an eccentric dance in the second act.

In the story "The Forbidden Land" is supposed to be planted in Tibet, presumably because Mr. Steely had to plant it somewhere. A good reason may have been that he thought the opportunity for costuming the piece was out of the ordinary. The results certainly are, and some one can lay to himself the unction of an artistic color scheme for the chorus in every scene.

The breakfast food man, his niece Dorothy—a part nicely acted and daintily, though timidly, sung by Miss Mamie Ryan—and the Swedish maid, wander into Tibet and are gobbled by a Tibetan comic monarch, who sings to them in a deep bass voice and tells them to get ready to die at 6 o'clock. Included in the invitation is another foreigner, an English artist. The daughter of his comical majesty, however, falls in love with the artist, and he is about to marry her to save himself and the others when a beggar chief kindly comes along and overturns the monarchy.

One of the smacking, clever ideas in the piece is along this beggar line. A rag tag chorus of pretty maidens invades the stage and under the lead of Miss Mamie Ryan jigs and sings and runs in rollicking fashion. Miss Ryan, who is making her first appearance on the musical stage, was warmly welcomed by the friends she made as the soubret of the Dearborn stock company.

It takes a good deal of courage to try out a musical piece in Chicago. No musical piece yet ever went smoothly the first night. Not one of all the successful lot but had to be tinkered with and fussed over for days and weeks. And many a one had less promising material at the outset than "The Forbidden Land." The end ought to be another Dearborn success.

"The New Minister," a rural play in three acts, was given its first performance in Chicago yesterday at the Great Northern theater. The play deals with a simple story of plain life in a New Hampshire town, and possesses many humorous types of characters. Ernest Hastings plays the title rôle. The play is by Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer of "Old Homestead" fame.

"The Banda Rossa" is the chief attraction at Cleveland's theater this week, heading a vaudeville bill which also includes the Rose Edith ballet of thirty women, Adgie the woman lion tamer, and Everhart, the hoop roller.

"Vivian's Papas" entered its second month at Powers' theater last night.

Riverview was opened as an amusement park yesterday, with the First Imperial German Marine band as the attraction. The band was escorted to the park by the Rheinlacher verein. The management estimated that 30,000 persons visited the park during the day.

The Snow Man Well Received.

New York, July 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Fanny Locke MacKenzie's playlet, "The Snow Man," was produced tonight at Proctor's Fifth Avenue theater, and it went well. The sketch takes up half an hour. John W. Mitchell and Grace Merritt present it.

Miss Merritt assumes the rôle of the married woman who is disgruntled at the apparent lack of attention shown to her by her husband. She dubs him "the snow man," and they separate and talk of divorce. Mr. Mitchell is the husband.

When he comes to take possession of his personal property in his home his wife and he talk over their troubles, and the wife discovers she loves him after all. Then the divorce is called off, and the curtain drops on a reunited husband and wife.

Patriotism from the Pulpits.

Lessons Drawn from the Fourth of July Celebration by Chicago Ministers.

Problems of the Republic.

Dr. James S. Stone, St. James' Episcopal.

If this country be true to the principles for which it stands, there is no problem in it that will be left unsolved and no peril that will prove disastrous. I do not purpose on a day such as this to distress or discourage. Perhaps we are already sufficiently familiar with the difficulties and dangers that beset the country. Indeed, there are so many and so much is said about them, that the wonder is the country still exists. It would not exist, were there not some quality, some genius of virtue, greater than they and powerful enough to exert a counteracting influence.

There is so much foolish talk on our difficulties and dangers that to my mind the greatest peril to the country are the pessimists who see nothing good in it; and the greatest problem is how to stop their discouraging influence.

The spirit in which all problems and perils may be successfully met is that which President Lincoln expressed when he said: "Whatever shall appear to be God's will, I will do it." No nation ever lived for long that had not the fear of God. Some say religion is dying out in the republic. I do not believe it. When a man does not do God's will and keep his commandments, God simply sets him aside, leaves him alone—in his selfishness and unbelief.

So with a nation. This America has not done. You will find today the salt of the nation, the men and women who are of real use to the country, not on golf links or in other Sabbath breaking pursuits, but in their respective places of worship, doing their duty to God and gaining strength for their work as citizens. A man without a God is of no use anywhere. Nor is a nation; and as long as this nation continues to serve him, neither you nor I need have any fear for problems or perils.

War Wickedly Wasteful.

Dr. W. E. Barton, Oak Park Congregational.

When we see that congress has appropriated millions of dollars for new battleships we can have no conception of the vast sum thus expended save as we inquire what the same sum would accomplish in other ways.

Oak Park is an unusually prosperous community of nearly 12,000 inhabitants, with a high average of good homes and public buildings. If Oak Park were to sell all its real estate and personal property at the valuation it has on the assessor's books we might, with the proceeds, barely buy one second class battleship. We could buy the Texas and have a small remaining sum, which soon would be swallowed up in repairs.

We are now at peace, but our appropriations for the army and navy are so much greater than they were before our war with Spain—and they were not small then—that the difference in the two items alone—the army and the navy—saying nothing about the increase for fortifications and much beside, would in four years buy Cook county, its personal property and real estate, at their assessed valuation, and leave a hundred millions of dollars over.

Prof. Powell estimated that we have arid lands, that are reclaimable by irrigation, enough to make eight states as large as Indiana. They would be worth annexing, and this could be done without waste of life and with the mere expenditure of money. I find no official estimates of so vast an undertaking, but by what has been done I judge that our appropriation for the army one year would give us fertile land enough for one of those states. It would be a fine form of conquest, a bloodless victory, the occasion for pride and gratitude.

Losing Spirit of Freedom.

Dr. W. A. Bartlett, First Congregational.

Is it characteristic of our nation that we are discussing the question of how fireworks shall be set off, when, like our forbears, we should be maintaining our independence? We might dispense with a few rockets and bombs and gather the people in the churches and read to them, in this time of fervor, that famous document in which our fathers threw off a hated foreign yoke. The original document in Jefferson's handwriting is hidden away that it may not fade. Much of the spirit of that declaration already has faded away nor do we hold the statement sacred as something to be guarded.

Are we a free people when giant trusts are formed for selfish purposes and rated jurists of the United States uphold them and are employed by them? Can we boast of being the descendants of the men of '76 when spies like bloodhounds track down men who seek employment, and who under our constitution are entitled to "Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness?"

We claim now a place among the "powers" of the world, yet a peaceful citizen who acts as legal adviser of wronged men is murderously set upon at his office door by thugs more merciless and dangerous to our civic welfare than George III. and his emissaries. They struck openly; these men struck in the dark.

It is the love of money which is buying up our patriotism, bribing our pride, stilling the voice of conscience, and defending the wrong. Our fathers put their fortunes at the disposal of their country, but vast fortunes are today threatening the nation.

Old Time Patriotism Best.

John Thompson, Grace Methodist.

Patriotism is a scriptural virtue. It is not commanded in the moral law, nor inculcated by precept in the New Testament, but it is a prominent quality in the character of judges, prophets, and apostles.

The need of the hour in our country is patriots of the bible type. The ideal citizenship is a union of the civic and the heavenly. Atheism cannot build an ideal city or govern a people safely no more than a man who is blind and deaf could be a motorman on a street car. The good city builder must see the city of God.

Poets inspire high ideals and prophets to prove the conditions of life because they see. Ecclesiastes and Lamentations are of no practical value in city building; a man must read the apocalypse of John and see the ideal city in order to build it. But to think so much of heaven as to forget one's duty is a fatal blunder. Men need bread and clothes and homes here, before they need the ambrosial fruit and white robes and many mansions in heaven.

People Slaves of Creed.

Benjamin Rush Thornbury, Trinity Reformed Episcopal.

We are an independent nation, but not an independent people. In our commercial, social, and private lives we are slaves of system. In our religious lives we are the slaves to creed and cult.

Christianity is something more than a religion—it is an art. The art of making the best of self and evolving the greatest good from life as we stand related to our fellow men.

If we lose our independence in our business we lose our power. Our business and professions are, after all, but pastimes, and only incidental to the real object of life.

Too many men sell themselves to their occupations. They forfeit their independence and become the phonograph attachment to another's will. Many a private car is but a gilded slave van; many a tapestried office a cell.

Many a pulpit is tied to the pew with a golden chain, and truth is lost in an echo.

At the Lord's table you are celebrating the "fourth of July" of your soul. Calvary was your soul's Yorktown, and the cry that came down from its summit as the lamp of a life flickered out was your spiritual emancipation proclamation.

CRUISERS ESCAPE TO VLADIVOSTOK.

Russian Squadron Eludes Pursuit of Vice Admiral Kamimura in a Fog.

JAPS DO NOT GIVE CHASE.

Mikado's Fleet Guards the Straits and Is Expected to Remain Near By.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

TOKIO, July 3.—The escape of the Vladivostok squadron Friday night, after being nearly cornered by Vice Admiral Kamimura's fleet, excites regret, but little comment.

Vice Admiral Kamimura's duty is to guard the Corean straits, and it is taken for granted that he will not pursue the three Russian cruisers far unless in actual touch with them.

The sallies of the Russian fleets from Port Arthur and Vladivostok have effected no results other than leaving the enemy worse off.

How Cruisers Escaped.

Official reports of the movements of the Russian Vladivostok fleet are still awaited. From all sources of information available it is gathered that the Russian warships were steaming between Iki island and Tsuishima Friday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, when they were sighted by Vice Admiral Kamimura, ten miles distant.

The Japanese fleet turned and gave chase, their torpedo squadron leading. The distance had been reduced by some two miles when darkness set in. Kamimura then ordered the torpedo boats to dash ahead, but before they were able to use their tubes they were subjected to a concentration of the searchlights on the Russian ships and a fierce fire for fifteen minutes. Suddenly the firing ceased and every light on the fleet was obscured. The Russian tactics succeeded and the fleet disappeared.

Grip Tightens on Port Arthur.

Around Port Arthur the Japanese grip is tightening and noncombatants are flying like rats from the place. Although the loss of the transports has involved some delay, the preparations for a final attack are nearing completion. The artillery and troops are getting into the best positions and all reports indicate that there have been numerous engagements. The Japanese are now well established to the southwest of Dalny.

SHIPS ESCAPE IN FOG.

TOKIO, July 3, 10 a. m.—The Vladivostok squadron eluded Vice Admiral Kamimura's squadron eastward of the island of Tsu Friday night in the darkness. A drizzling rain and fog favored the Russian vessels. The two squadrons met early in the evening, the Russians being north of Iki island and the Japanese south of Tsu island. They were ten miles apart.

The Russians bolted to the northeast when they were discovered by Vice Admiral Kamimura. The latter chased them at full speed.

The Japanese torpedo boats steamed ahead and entered within the range of the Russian guns.

Russians Shell Vigorously.

The Russian vessels vigorously shelled the Japanese torpedo boats. This firing explains the cannonading heard on Tsu island and gave rise to the belief that a general engagement was in progress.

Vice Admiral Kamimura gained on the Russian ships, and was only five miles in the rear when suddenly at 9 p. m all the Russian vessels extinguished their lights and disappeared in the darkness. At that time the Japanese torpedo boats were pressing the Russians, who had been using their searchlights. The torpedo boats failed to get close enough to the Russian squadron to discharge torpedoes.

Kamimura Still in Pursuit.

SEOUL, July 3, 7 p. m.—It has been announced officially that Vice Admiral Kamimura met the Russian Vladivostok squadron late Friday night near Iki island, about sixty miles north of Nagasaki. The Russian squadron consisted of three cruisers only, the torpedo boat flotilla evidently having returned to Vladivostok after the bombardment of Gensan on June 30.

Vice Admiral Kamimura, who was in superior force, opened fire and the Russians replied, but at the same time they fled to the northeast, with the Japanese vessels in pursuit.

DECLARE RUSSIANS ARE CRUEL.

Japanese Legation Receives Tokio Dispatch Giving Proof of Mutilation of Dead Soldiers.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—[Special.]—Russia's charges that Japanese soldiers have mutilated dead and wounded Russians on the field of battle are met by counter charges of the same nature. The Japanese government cites specific instances, giving names, dates, and places.

The Japanese legation today received a dispatch from Tokio containing the following message from the chief of staff of the second army:

"On the 15th of June a petty officer and other soldiers, six in all, belonging to the Eighteenth infantry regiment, encountered, while scouting, about fifteen Russian troops at Chengtsushan, and were killed after hand to hand fighting. On the death of these men the Russians thrust their bayonets into their mouths and cut open their lungs, and took away the contents of their pockets.

Dead Soldiers Stabbed.

"On the 27th of June Kobayashi Wachihi, a first class cavalryman belonging to the Third Cavalry regiment, who was scouting at a point about four kilometers (three miles) northeast of Heunyocheng was attacked by the Russians and fell dead on the ground. Thereupon about twenty Russian cavalrymen surrounded the dead man and barbarously stabbed his dead body several times. At this moment a company of our cavalry approached the scene and the Russians fled, leaving the body of the man to our hands."

Jap Care of Prisoners.

The Japanese minister has received an official statement regarding the provisions made in Japan for giving information concerning prisoners of war. For this purpose the bureau of information regarding prisoners of war was established at Tokio Feb. 21. Maj. Gen. Ishimoto, vice minister of war, was appointed chief of the bureau, and about the end of that month the bureau was formally opened.

Regulations were issued and rules adopted for the enhancement of the comfort of prisoners and for the dissemination of information concerning them. Among other things, arrangements were made by which they could send and receive letters, postal orders, etc.

It was also provided that the government railway should transport free of charge all articles donated to prisoners, and that all donations from abroad to prisoners should be exempt from customs duties and internal revenue duties.

Position of Armies at Last Reports.

The Japanese left is stationary and the center is retreating, while the extreme right is advancing.

RUSSIANS LOSE MORE WARSHIPS.

Togo Reports That in Action at Port Arthur He Sent Guardship and Destroyer to the Bottom.

forces have fallen back, abandoning their positions.

There have been no notable changes on the road to Liaoyang.

RAINS ARE LETTING UP.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

[Copyright: 1904: By the New York Herald.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 3.—Latest reports from the front state that the valleys have been turned into lakes, that a multitude of small streams have become torrents, and that the roads have been changed into quagmires, indicating that all progress in the campaign has stopped. Still later messages say the rain has stopped and that the wind is now blowing away over a dry country. The weather is of intense importance, as it is known that the Japanese, having concentrated such a large force, propose pushing on if there is any possibility of doing so.

Vladivostok Fleet Busy.

Today was full of rumors concerning the activity of the Vladivostok squadron, which was reported as having appeared again in Broughton straits and come in contact with the enemy's fleet. Fighting is said to be proceeding, but the cry of "Wolf" is heard so often that not much credence is given to the report.

Togo is being severely handled by the press, which says he has falsified reports of his own losses, and now goes further and invents Russian disasters by sending reports of engagements which never took place.

Rumor of Russian Victory.

The whole town tonight is talking about the report of an engagement in which the Russians are said to have achieved a big victory over the Japanese. Details are wanting. It is said that Gen. Mitschenko took a Japanese brigade prisoners.

Says Japs Are Not Advancing.

Gen. Sakharoff telegraphs that the Japanese are not advancing from Senyucheng. He reports a skirmish on June 30 between Siuyen and Siakhotau. Prince Karageorgevich concurrently reconnoitered with sotnias of Cossacks toward Kantse, whither, after a skirmish, the Japanese hastily retreated.

The enemy lost on June 27 two guns and an artillery caisson was completely destroyed by Russian shells.

There have been fresh indications since July 1 that the Japanese are advancing in small groups on roads near Siakhotau and Tindialyn. Two companies occupy the southern eminence of Saikushan, on the road from Theta pass to Simucheng. The dispatch records trivial losses in skirmishes.

Call for More Troops.

The official messenger publishes a call for a fresh mobilization of troops in the district of St. Petersburg. The call does not indicate how many men will be affected.

JAPS NEAR LIAOYANG.

LIAOYANG, July 3.—The whole of Manchuria seems to have turned into a marsh, and the weather almost precludes a movement by either side.

It is reported that the Japanese are near Liaoyang, and a battle is expected when the weather permits. The country is such that a few days of sun will dry the roads.

It is reported that 20,000 Japanese are working around toward Mukden, but this is scarcely credited.

JAPS AT KAIPING.

CHEFOO, July 3.—A small Japanese force occupied Kaiping on June 23 and found the Russians had fallen back to Taitchekiao. The Japanese expect that a big battle will be fought at Taitchekiao, but in other quarters it is believed that the Russians probably will retreat to Liaoyang, as otherwise they would be cut off at Haicheng by the Takushan division of the Japanese army. It is possible that this already has occurred, as the Takushan division was within striking distance of Haicheng a week ago.

NEW CRUISER IS A TRIUMPH.

Colorado, Which Made Notable Run, First to Have Armor for Battery and Machinery.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 3.—The new armored cruiser Colorado, which yesterday made a speed record of more than twenty-one knots, indicating that on the official trip the requirement of twenty-two knots will be exceeded, is the first of the new class of vessels which will have complete armor protection both for battery and machinery. The vessels, of which there are six, are termed armored cruisers, but they are, in reality, high speed battleships. Each will carry sixty-six guns, the main armament consisting of four eight-inch breech loading rifles and fourteen six-inch rapid firing rifles. In addition to being the largest, they probably will be the most effective ships in the navy.

WORSHIP THE "MESSIAH."

SPECIAL SERVICE BY SMYTH-PIGGOTT, ENGLISH "LAMB."

Cosmopolitan Congregation Hails the Self-Styled Son of God as Divine and Bow Before Him—Russian Countess Among His Followers, and Many Other Representatives from Continental Europe—Gates Shut and the Outside World Excluded.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

[Copyright: 1904: By the New York Herald.]

LONDON, July 3.—The Rev. John Smyth-Piggott, who claims to be the Messiah, yesterday in the chapel of the Abode of Love at Spaxton, a picturesque village in Somersetshire, conducted a special service, which is the subject of several lengthy reports in this morning's London papers, one of which heads its article with the single word, "Blasphemy." According to all accounts, it was a remarkable service. None but the faithful were present, the great oak gates of the retreat being closely guarded. It was a calendar day of the sect, chief disciples being summoned from far and wide.

Norway was, perhaps, most largely represented, but the worshipers included at least one Russian countess and many handsome young Englishwomen.

Handmaidens Patched the Throne.

By long disuse the "Messiah's" throne had become tawdry and faded, but a little upholstering and work by the ministering damsels had made it luxurious and stately. The service was timed for midday, and a cosmopolitan congregation of worshipers had gathered in the temple, when suddenly there was hush and the self-styled "lamb of God" approached.

The "Messiah" slowly and silently walked to his renovated throne, his disciples rising as he crossed the portals and bowing their heads reverently. "Behold the lamb of God," uttered slowly, deliberately, and unaffectedly, was the astounding exclamation which suddenly broke the spell of silence.

Preaches a Sermon.

The words had scarcely passed the lips of the "Messiah" before all the disciples made obeisance, the women bowing low and muttering exclamations of love and devotion. The central figure was a good looking man, plainly dressed in clerical garb. There were two hymns, and the "Messiah" himself preached a short sermon, selecting as his text the words "Love One Another."

Next followed psalms, sung in a subdued key by a splendidly trained choir. The service lasted little more than half an hour, and then the "Messiah" and the congregation went to partake of luncheon.

KURDS BEGIN MASSACRE OF ARMENIAN CHRISTIANS.

Report in London That Turkish Troops Are Murdering in the Sultan's Province of Van.

LONDON, July 4, 3 a. m.—In connection with the cablegram which American Secretary of State Hay received from Ispahan, Persia, July 2, signed by "Armenian bishops in Persia," saying that "Turkish barbarians were massacring thousands of Armenians," and humbly soliciting the "United States government in the name of Christianity and humanity to save innocent lives," the Daily Chronicle this morning prints the following telegram, dated Tauris, Persia, June 30:

"It is announced from a perfectly reliable source that in the vicinity of Van (a fortified city of Turkish Armenia) on June 24 Kurds and Turkish regulars attacked Armenian travelers, killing them as revolutionists.

"This is the beginning of a general massacre in the province of Van. The people are in terror."

There is no official verification here of the Chronicle's dispatch, but there have been rumors of trouble in Armenia for some time.

There is much interest displayed in the outcome of the so-called reforms promised by the sultan.

Negro Who Became Deaf Mute and Recovered Foretells Destruction of Shreveport.

Shreveport, La., July 3.—[Special.]—St. Julien Renfro, the young negro whose deprivation of the faculties of speech and hearing and his equally sensational regaining of these senses, made a sensational address tonight to upwards of three thousand negroes, predicting the destruction of Shreveport within four years. The address has made a profound impression on the entire colored population.

TALLEST MAN DIES AT THE FAIR.

Edward Beaupre, 8 Feet 2 1-2 Inches and Well Proportioned, Succumbs to Hemorrhage.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—Edward Beaupre, aged 23 years, said to be the tallest and best proportioned man in the world, died today of hemorrhage in an ambulance on the world's fair grounds while being taken to the emergency hospital. He was 8 feet 2½ inches tall and weighed about 300 pounds.

Marine Dies by Suicide at Honolulu.

HONOLULU, July 3.—First Lieut. Gilford S. Garber of the United States marine corps, committed suicide here today. He left the following note: "It's no use; I can't stop drinking." His accounts are straight. His home was at Madison, Wis.

ZIONIST LEADER IS DEAD.

DR. THEODOR HERZL PASSES AWAY AT HOME IN VIENNA.

Originated the Movement for a Return of Jews to Palestine and Succeeded in Enlisting Sympathy and Support of His Coreligionists Throughout the World—Laid Plans Before the Sultan of Turkey for an Independent Republic.

VIENNA, July 3.—Dr. Theodor Herzl, founder of the Zionist movement and president of the Zionist congress, is dead.

Dr. Theodor Herzl, who had barely reached middle age, 44, has been variously described by writers who were at once charmed by the rich radiance of his personality and inspired by the intensity of his belief in self. He was an idealist to his finger tips, and yet he succeeded in convincing thousands of his coreligionists that his dreams were practical and in enlisting the sympathy and cooperation of the most exalted personages in the world.

To Herzl the prohpecy of Isaiah was no mere poetic wail to be read over by a rabbi or intoned by a cantor at the week end: "And he shall set up an ensign for the nations and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth."

Text Inspired Him.

This text was the impetus of his life work. In it he saw the hope of Israel, and before he was 30 years old he had begun an agitation that within a comparatively short time had attracted the attention of the civilized world, and which finally culminated in the Zionist congress, which was really a convention to devise ways and means of carrying out the "dreams" of the brilliant Hungarian Jew who had forced a hearing.

Among his other achievements he obtained an audience with the sultan and laid before that autocrat the scheme for acquiring Palestine and establishing there an independent Jewish republic.

Native of Buda-Pesth.

Through Dr. Herzl's efforts the Jewish Colonial Trust, the most remarkable financial movement the world has ever witnessed, raised $250,000 to further his plans. He believed that his people were essential to the world, and he said: "Our common history has suffered a long break, and only in our own time has an understanding and a union between the separated sections of our people become possible."

For many years prior to his death Dr. Herzl had lived in Vienna, but he was a native of Buda-Pesth.

Associated with Dr. Herzl was Dr. Max Nordau, also a native of Buda-Pesth, who will succeed to the presidency of the Zionist congress.

BRITISH CONTROL SHIP COMBINE

J. Bruce Ismay Invested with Full Executive Powers by J. P. Morgan and Other American Directors.

LONDON, July 4, 3 a. m.—The Daily Telegraph prints an interview with J. Bruce Ismay, in which the president of the International Mercantile Marine company says he not only knows that he is "invested with absolute authority in the management" of the combination, but that the voting trustees, including J. P. Morgan, have "handed over to me all executive powers."

President Ismay refused to say if the White Star line shareholders had acted wisely in selling the line, merely remarking that "the shareholders had accepted Mr. Morgan's terms."

The Daily Telegraph in commenting on the interview regards the control of the Atlantic as having been won by Great Britain.

RECORD MADE IN PRIZE FIRING.

Barbette Gun on English Warship Venerable Scores Nine Hits in Nine Shots.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

[Copyright: 1904: By the New York Herald.]

LONDON, July 3.—The Malta correspondent of the Daily Express telegraphs that H. M. S. Venerable has just created a world's record in prize firing. One of its 12 inch barbette guns fired nine rounds in three minutes and scored nine hits. The actual record is: Turret, 9 rounds, 5 hits; right gun, 9 rounds, 9 hits; left gun, 5 rounds, 5 hits; total, 23 rounds, 19 hits. The time occupied in each case was three minutes.

GENDARMES BAYONET STRIKERS

Parade of Dock Laborers at Brest, France, Precipitates a Riot.

BREST, France, July 3.—Rioting took place here today during a parade of the dock strikers. The rioters were charged by gendarmes, who drew their bayonets. Ten of the gendarmes were wounded. Many of the strikers were arrested.

TOLEDO'S GOLDEN RULE MAYOR DYING OF A BROKEN HEART.

Samuel M. Jones Declares to a Friend That He Is the Most Wretched Man on Earth.

Toledo, O., July 3.—[Special.]—Samuel M. Jones, the "Golden Rule" mayor of Toledo and one of America's unique political characters, is near to death. Although making a heroic struggle, his friends fear that the end is near. A consultation of five physicians was held this evening, and they agree that there is scarcely any hope.

"Dying of a broken heart," is the way one of the mayor's closest friends expresses it.

To this friend Mayor Jones, at the close of his last day's work at his office, said:

"It is all well enough to talk. They say I am rich and have thousands of friends, but what of it? As a matter of fact, I am the most wretched and most miserable man on earth today. I can't get away. I am chained here, actually chained. I have discovered that the possession of money is the source of my misery, money I have not earned, and which does not belong to me, but my greatest misery is in my attempts to distribute money to others who have earned it."

"The continuous stream of hard luck stories which have been poured into his sympathetic ear," said the friend, "would give the average man nervous prostration, but his sensitive organism cannot bear up under it.

"The last day in his office was but a fair sample of every day's work, in addition to official duties.

"First came a girl who had been fined in a police court and ordered out of the city. She wanted a ticket to Cleveland. The mayor told her he would willingly give her $500 if she would quit her life of sin. He gave her some good advice, and then went down into his own pocket for fare to Cleveland.

"Next an old woman who had been evicted from her home. He listened to her story and gave her sufficient money to keep her awhile. Then came an ex-convict out of a job. He gave him assistance liberally. Then followed an old couple, destitute and hungry. A $10 bill made them happy. Five or six more similar cases came rapidly."

Must Take Down Carnival Fence.

The Gaskill Carnival company, which secured a permit last week for a "street fair" at Fifty-ninth and Halsted streets on the recommendation of Englewood merchants, has been ordered by Ald. 1,000 EJECTED FROM CONEY CARS

Refusal to Pay an Extra Five Cents Causes Many Fights and Some Rioting.

BOYS END WORLD CRUISE.

Fifty Naval Recruits Who Have Girded the Earth Arrive Home on the Dixie.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE
New York, July 3.

1,000 Persons Ejected from Coney Island Cars.

More than 1,000 persons were ejected from Coney Island cars today for refusing to pay an extra 5 cents fare. They were only a small part of the number who protested, but others paid rather than be dumped unceremoniously into dusty roads a mile from their destination. From 10 o'clock in the morning, when the rush to the island began, until 5 o'clock in the evening, a corps of muscular inspectors, motormen, conductors, and special policemen were kept busy dragging and throwing and shoving men and women and even children out of the cars. There was no ceremony.

Many women fainted. Minor injuries were many, and there were fights innumerable. At one time there was a riot, in which a mob assisted seven Italians who had been thrown off the cars. They put them back, and these seven were the only ones, so far as known, to defy the order successfully.

There appeared to be an idea that a decision of the Appellate division of the Supreme court had declared that no line could charge more than one fare, and in practically all the cases the announcement was made that a suit would be begun immediately for damages.

Lawyers and lawyers' clerks were plentiful in all the crowds with advice and cards. The police, except at one point, remained entirely neutral, refusing to aid the trolley men in their work, and remaining passive except where the trouble continued after the passengers had been ejected.

A bargain counter rush in Brooklyn yesterday grew so exciting that the police were summoned by a riot call. After order had been restored, besides fragments of women's dresses and wraps, nineteen leather belts, fifty-three side combs, and one baby were found on the battlefield.

Young Naval Men Return from Long Cruise.

With a record of nearly twenty-four hours better than the mail steamers from that port, the United States ship Dixie, the only naval transport now in service, arrived at Quarantine this afternoon from Colon. On board are 350 young sailors who have just completed a trip around the world, which was practically their first sea experience.

These young men, who had been picked up by recruiting officers in various parts of the west, were sent to sea on the Buffalo about eight months ago. They made a voyage to Manila by way of the Suez canal, and, being landed at Panama just a week ago, journeyed across the isthmus by train and then joined the Dixie at Colon. All will receive about two weeks shore leave to enable them to visit their homes. They will afterward report to the nearest receiving ship.

The officers of the Dixie speak in high terms of the young sailors. They are all from 18 to 22 years of age and are a fine looking lot. During their short service many have been promoted to be ordinary seamen, while some have become coxswains. During their voyage on the Buffalo they had accumulated a lot of queer pets, but all of these, except a dog, were left on that vessel.

Savings Banks Increase Interest Rate.

In view of the plethora of money in banks and trust companies, the dullness of the market and the cessation of boom times, no little interest has been shown over the announcement of several savings banks of this city that they would raise the rate of interest paid to depositors for the six months ending July 1. About a year or a year and a half ago most of the savings banks that had been paying 4 per cent per annum began to reduce their rate to 3 or 3½ per cent.

Consequently the announcement a few days ago that the Union Dime Savings bank and the Brooklyn Savings bank, both with heavy deposits, would go back to the 4 per cent rate was regarded as a gratifying exhibition of skillful management.

The banks which have maintained steadily their 4 per cent rate are the New York Savings bank, the Immigrant Savings bank, and the Seaman's Bank for Savings.

McAdoo's Daughter Finds a "Poolroom" Open.

Police Commissioner McAdoo thought for a few minutes today that he had in his own daughter a detective that could teach the entire police force at detecting law violations. The girl had come to him quite vexed and declared it was a shame poolrooms were allowed to operate so openly.

"But we have no longer poolrooms in New York," declared the commissioner.

"Yes you have," replied the girl. "And what's more, some of them even have signs out."

To convince her father the young woman took him down street and exultantly pointed to a sign which read: "Pool parlor, 2½ cents a cue."

"Hello Girls" Guests of Wealthy Woman.

Mrs. R. C. Black, a wealthy woman of Pelham Manor, whose husband is a member of the firm of Black, Starr & Frost, well known New York jewelers, gave an outing today to the telephone girls of Pelham, New Rochelle, and Larchmont, and other towns along the sound aboard the auxiliary yacht Reposal. "Centrals," numbering twenty boarded the yacht at the New York Athletic club at 9 o'clock and sailed as far east as Stamford, Conn. At noon Mrs. Black had her Jap steward serve them with luncheon. Mrs. Black intends to make her outing to "hello" girls an annual affair, as she says they are a jolly crowd, but are overworked.

DOWIE TELLS OF HIS TRIP.

"ONLY A RECONNOISSANCE," SAYS ZION'S LEADER.

With 300 Restorationists, the Doctor Declares, He Could Have Won the World—Government Positions in Australia Are Held by Liars, He Asserts, and He Is Not Sorry He Said King Edward Had No Religion to Spare.

John Alexander Dowie yesterday made his "World Visitation" the subject of his first sermon in Shiloh temple, Zion City, since Jan. 1. He was escorted to the auditorium by the Zion band and guards and received a hearty welcome from the big congregation of his followers.

After declaring that he had traveled 33,000 miles in the course of his trip around the world, he said the "visitation" was not a missionary tour.

"It was a reconnoissance, and not in force at that," said Dr. Dowie. "Our mission this time was not to convert the world, but only to look around from the viewpoint of the prophet of the restoration. If I had had 300 restorationists with me I would have staid three months longer and fought the battle and won it."

Says Australia Is Corrupt.

"The government positions in Australia are filled with thieves and liars, and I did not say much less when I was there," continued the speaker. "Australia is the most corrupt country on earth, because it is ruled by the ignorant, drunken, rioting laboring classes.

"I am not sorry that I said King Edward had no religion to spare. It is true. It is only too notoriously true what kind of a man he is, but I did not say anything about him until the last day at Adelaide."

Boycott on Steamship Line.

Because he was not allowed to hold public meetings on the boats of the Oceanic steamship line, Dr. Dowie said he had arranged that no Zion goods or passengers be sent on the company's vessels. He declared the boycott already had cost the line thousands of dollars.

Speaking of the war in the orient, the head of Zion declared that he long before had prophesied the outbreak of hostilities. He had said the contest would be between a "bear" and a "swordfish." Whenever the "bear" went to sea he would be "run through and through." Divine inspiration had given the foreknowledge.

CAN ATTRACT MEN TO CHURCH.

Way to Do It, Says Pearse Pinch, Is to Give Them Some Interest There.

The incredible energy with which men do business in Chicago compels a corresponding force in church work, said the Rev. Pearse Pinch, preaching yesterday in Forestville Congregational church. "A business man," said Mr. Pinch, "deals with more problems in a half hour by telephone than he could possibly reach twenty-five years ago in a half day.

"Working at that rate all the week, do you think you can get him to church? If you do you must give him something to come for.

"Here in the city most men feel no responsibility for the way things go. Back in the country town things were measurable and manageable. You felt you had something to do with them. In the city we have no neighbors.

"Now, the church can be the embodiment of a community interest. Here is something a man can take hold of. A church can be also a center for neighborly relations. In these ways every problem that surrounds our church work presents an opportunity and a possibility worth meeting."

REFUSES RITE TO DIVORCED.

The Rev. E. A. Larrabee Believes Marriage Ceremony Means "Until Death Do Us Part."

The Rev. E. A. Larrabee of the Church of the Ascension, Episcopal, is one of the clergymen who refuse to marry divorced persons under any conditions. In the article on the position of Chicago ministers on divorce in THE TRIBUNE yesterday, however, he was listed among those willing to perform the ceremony for a divorced person when convinced the applicant was not at fault in the action.

The clergyman's original letter follows:

"In reply to your question relative to the marrying of divorced persons, I would say that during a ministry of more than twenty-seven years it always has been my rule to refuse to marry such persons. The marriage service which, as a priest of the church, I am bound to use, exacts a lifelong vow from the contracting parties 'until death do us part.' That is enough for me. With this view of Christian marriage it is not necessary even to inquire into the grounds of divorce. No divorced person, whether the innocent person or not, whether divorced for adultery or any other cause, will I marry."

TALKS OF PRODIGAL DAUGHTER.

Walter Henry Nugent Says She Ought to Be Treated as Well as Her Brother.

Preaching in St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church on "Rahab, the Prodigal Daughter," the Rev. Walter Henry Nugent said in part:

"Today the prodigal son returns and receives a great welcome. But when the prodigal daughter returns, are arms outstretched to her? Is there great jubliation? How is she welcomed? Is it not too often the case that she is told to seek forgiveness in heaven?

"Let us be more lenient to the prodigal daughter when she is repentant! Let us extend the right hand of fellowship! Let us encourage her in all possible ways and we shall get big returns for our efforts."

SAYS CHICAGO IS RIGHTEOUS.

The Rev. M. P. Boynton, in Speaking on Reform, Denies City Is Most Wicked in World.

Arthur Burrage Farwell, secretary of the Hyde Park Protective association, spoke yesterday morning in the Lexington Avenue Baptist church on "Hyde Park's Forty-two Years' Contest Against the Saloon." He reviewed the history of the organization he represents, and at the conclusion a contribution was taken for the prosecution of the work. The pastor, the Rev. M. P. Boynton, in speaking of reform work, declared that instead of being the "wickedest city in the world," as charged, Chicago really is the most righteous.

BUSY MARITAL WEEK AT ST. JOE.

LOWEST DEATH RATE KNOWN MADE IN CHICAGO IN JUNE.

Temperature Conditions the Chief Cause of Good Showing—Total Mortality 11.02 a Thousand Population.

Favorable temperature during the last two months has given Chicago the lowest June mortality record not only in its own history but among all the great cities of the world according to the weekly health bulletin.

"May averaged 57 degrees, about one degree warmer than the record of thirty-three years," says the bulletin. "June averaged 65 degrees, two degrees cooler than the record. The warmer May and the cooler June were especially favorable to the health of the young, and it is the mortality among the young—those under 5 years of age—that constitutes the most important factor of the general death rate.

"There were 1,745 deaths at all ages reported during the month—an annual rate of 11.02 per 1,000 of the population, and 24 per cent less than the average June rate of the previous decade, which was 14.52. Of this total there were 430 under 5 years of age, or less than one-fourth (24.6 per cent). Ten years ago, 1894, there were 2,033 deaths at all ages in the month of June, of which number 959 were under 5 years of age—a proportion of nearly double (47.1 per cent) that of June, 1904.

"Death rates are diminishing, health is improving, and the duration of human life is increasing all over the world; but in no other large city in the same proportion as in Chicago. This fact is becoming so generally recognized that the incredulity of a decade ago is now wellnigh overcome."

BLESSES BELLS OF CHURCH AND THEN 350 RING THEM.

Bishop Muldoon Performs Ceremony at St. Paul's and Sponsors Sound the Chimes for the First Time.

The ceremony of blessing the new bells of St. Paul's German Roman Catholic church, Hoyne avenue and Twenty-second place, was performed yesterday afternoon, Bishop P. J. Muldoon officiating. Following the blessing 350 sponsors for the bells rang them for the first time. The sponsors were men, women, and children, most of them members of St. Paul's parish.

Bishop Muldoon preached a sermon in English and the Rt. Rev. Ignatius Conrad of Spielerville, Ark., preached in German. Bishop Muldoon said:

"These bells will be a blessing to you all. They will ring forth the tones of grace and send forth God's call to every one in this parish."

Assisting the bishop were the Rev. Theobald Mueller, pastor of St. Joseph's church; the Rev. Victor Mueller and the Rev. Leonard Schlimm, assistant pastors of St. Paul's. The Rev. Ambrose Kohlbeck, pastor of St. Paul's, was master of ceremonies.

The church was decorated with streamers of white and gold, the papal colors, and the four bells, placed before the altars, were covered with flowers. The bells are expected to be hung tomorrow and will be rung to the parish for the first time next Sunday. They weigh 3,500, 2,000, 1,000, and 550 pounds.

WOUNDED BY HIS HELMET SPIKE

South Park Policeman Loses a Fugitive and Is Severely Injured by New Ornament.

Blood poisoning is feared by South Park Policeman John Brown, who sustained a wound from the spike of his helmet Friday evening. Brown was patrolling the Wooded island in Jackson park when he saw two negroes stealing roses. He gave chase and was overtaking them when his helmet caught on an overhanging limb and in falling struck the policeman oh the back of the right hand, inflicting a deep wound. Brown gave up the chase and went to have his hand dressed.

PLAN THEIR 'COUNTY FAIR'

WOMEN OF NORTH SHORE WILL CONDUCT IT FOR CHARITY.

Exhibition to Be Held on County Line North of Glencoe for Benefit of Gad's Hill Settlement Outing Fund—Hundreds of Children to Gain—Will Open Friday Afternoon — "Gypsies" to Read Palms—Babies and Fat Stock to Be Shown.

Society's compass last week pointed to the greensward west of the Onwentsia club, where nervous thoroughbreds performed for charity's sake. The magnet this week will be the Gad's Hill encampment on the county line just north of Glencoe, where "queens of the black arts" will read palms and tell fortunes by the turning of cards, where pretty babies will be exhibited, where fat stock will be shown for prizes, and where there will be continuous vaudeville, the music of a military band, and merry go rounds, and everything else that belongs to a county fair.

This "county fair" will be given by the women of the north shore towns for the benefit of the Gad's Hill outing fund. It is expected the proceeds will be enough to keep hundreds of children at the encampment during the summer—children who the year around have lived in the tenements.

Fair Opens Friday Afternoon.

The fair will open Friday afternoon and will continue Friday night and Saturday afternoon and evening. All trains and trolley cars will be met by automobiles furnished by north shore owners.

Lake Forest women have been making efforts to outdo the women of the other suburbs in variety of amusements. Mrs. Carl Stone has planned a baby show. All children less than 5 years old will be eligible to compete. It is expected more than a hundred babies will be entered for the prizes.

Mrs. Stone, who designed the poster for the fair, also will cut silhouettes for 25 cents each. She will do it "while you wait," and a correct likeness is "guaranteed." In the Lake Forest section there will be a fish pond, too, where big dolls whose eyes close when you lay them down will be among the prizes. Chewing gum valued at $25 will be sold, with lemonade, popcorn, and peanuts.

Household Goods to Be Sold.

The Highland park section will be in charge of Mrs. Secor Cunningham and Mrs. Orson Smith. It will be devoted to the sale of useful household articles and to a domestic science exhibit. The women of Fort Sheridan will contribute their soldiers' military band, and there will be dancing in an open air pavilion. The farmers of the surrounding country will compete in the live stock show, and it is said that grease will be spread over one of the pigs and the children sent out to corral the slippery animal.

Mrs. Robert Gregory, designer of the program cover, is chairman of the committee in charge of the fair. She has been assisted by Mrs. Lella Martin, one of the founders of the settlement, and by Mrs. A. E. Yerex.

IN THE SOCIETY WORLD.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goodrich, who are spending the summer at Harbor Point, have invited a number of friends to spend the fourth with them, among the Chicago guests invited being Judge and Mrs. Lockwood Honoré and Mrs. Norval Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Noyes and Miss Madeline Noyes have returned from Europe, where they have been for over a year, and have taken a house at Winnetka for the summer.

Mrs. Clarence M. Woolley has gone to Harbor Point to spend the summer. She left last Friday, accompanied by Mr. Woolley, who, however, will return to the city this week.

Mrs. Paul Morton is the guest of Mrs. William J. Chalmers at the Chalmers summer home, Dronley, Lake Geneva. Mr. Morton will join Mrs. Morton there this week.

Mrs. George M. Pullman left for her summer home in New York state yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Lorenzo M. Johnson and the Misses Dorothea and Lesley Johnson, who will spend the month of July with Mrs. Pullman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dun, 503 North State street, have gone to Highland Park to spend the summer and are staying at the Moraine.

Mrs. Katherine Prindiville and her daughter, Miss Helen Prindiville, whose engagement to Mr. Francis Griffin was recently announced, are the guests of Mrs. William M. Goodridge at Highland Park. Miss Prindiville will leave for Lake Geneva this week to spend a month with friends. Her wedding to Mr. Griffin will take place in New York during the coming winter.

Miss M. E. Caswell, 4 Aldine square, is planning to sail Sept. 1 for India to spend a year with her cousins, Sir James Riggs and Lady Latouche. Mr. C. L. Caswell Jr. will sail for Europe on Saturday for an extensive tour of the continent.

Mrs. R. Philip Gormully, Miss O'Meara, and Miss Josephine O'Meara, 459 Dearborn avenue, are in Berlin, Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hume of the Lakota hotel leave for a trip to Europe on July 20. They will visit Paris, Berlin, and London.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Crowe and son, 32 Walton place, have taken a cottage at Spring lake for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neulander, 1960 North Halsted street, have gone for an extensive eastern trip.

Miss Margaret Norton and Miss Kate Norton of Warren avenue will spend this and next month in the Rocky mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Duncan will sail for Europe on July 14 from Montreal, and will return about Oct. 1.

The marriage is announced of Miss Amy Hammett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hammett of Wheaton, to Mr. Stanley Arthur Pettibone of Irving Park. The wedding took place last Friday at the residence of the bride's parents, the Rev. Morton C. Hartzell, a cousin of the bride, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Pettibone will make their home in Irving Park.

The marriage is announced of Mrs. Dexter Noe Hoops to Mr. Atholl Walter Gregory, which took place last week. Mr. and Mrs. Gregory have gone for a journey east, and will be at home in a fortnight at 4121 Drexel boulevard.

The wedding of Miss Helen Frances Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Bradshaw, 6120 Madison avenue, to Mr. Thomas Wood Stevens will take place at the home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Miss Grace Bradshaw will attend as maid of honor and Mr. Alden Charles Noble as best man.

Miss Katheryn M. Brophy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Brophy, 734 South Sawyer avenue, was married to Mr. Daniel J. Hogan on Tuesday at St. Agatha's church. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan will be at home on Wednesdays in September at 2652 South Forty-second avenue.

Mrs. N. R. Wright announces the marriage of her daughter, Bernice Mary, to Mr. Albert Nelson Durkee, which took place June 30 at the family residence, the Rev. Frank Hardin officiating. The bride and groom are spending their honeymoon in St. Louis and will be at home after Sept. 1 at 7302 Harvard avenue.

Hartford, Conn., July 3.—[Special.]—The engagement is announced of Miss Marjorie R. Skinner, daughter of Col. William C. Skinner and Mrs. Skinner of Hartford, Conn., to Walter S. Trumbull of Chicago of Trinity, '03. Mr. Trumbull is a grandson of former United States Senator Lyman Trumbull of Illinois.

Up to and including July 2, the total attendance since the opening of the fair was 3,500,923.

The Tribune's Vacation Guide

TODAY will see greatly increased crowds at most of the nearby summer resorts, crowds leaving Chicago to escape the din of Independence day celebrations. Many of the resorts, however, will have celebrations of their own, but it is declared nearly all of these will be "sane." THE TRIBUNE'S vacation guide today lists more pleasant places for rest and recreation. They are:

SOUTH HAVEN, MICH.—The population of South Haven is tripled each year between June and October by the crowds of people who spend their vacations there. They have a fine time. Among the things that contribute to their amusement are toboggan slides into the water, bowling alleys, and a number of midway attractions. The star feature of the weekly program is the Saturday morning dip into the breakers of Lake Michigan. Every man, woman, and child in the place turns out, and it's worth traveling some distance to see. A Chautauqua course is a feature of South Haven life. A vacation there is cheap, and it is suitable to every taste save that which requires solitude and quiet. There are a half dozen good hotels where you can live inexpensively and share in the jolly, good humored stir which the Chicago excursionists create on their week end visits. The round trip from Chicago should be made by boat. It costs only $1.50.

SPRING LAKE, MICH.—One of the oldest summer resorts on the east coast of Lake Michigan. You can tell that much by the solid way in which the hotels are built and by their old fashioned French roofs. The place also boasts maple trees of remarkable size and beauty. Spring Lake seems to be just the right distance from Chicago for a vacation point that is reached by boat. It is a night's trip over and another one back, so the head of the household is really having a vacation every minute of the time he is away from the office on his week end visits. The food and accommodations are of the comfortable, homelike kind. The lake itself is nine miles long and but fifteen minutes' drive from Grand Haven. Its shores are so high and its breadth so small that boat accidents upon it almost are unknown. The beach of Lake Michigan easily is reached if you tire of Spring. Round trip by boat is $2.75, with a $10 rate for a ten ride ticket.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH.—It would be absurd to describe St. Joe to a Chicagoan. It is as familiar as Coney Island is to a New Yorker. The excursionists and bridal couples own St. Joe itself, but outside of the city limits there are as many quiet country nooks as any one could wish. Up the river, with its looking glass surface and dark, overhanging trees, there are fruit farms that will treat you well for little money. A light draft, flat bottomed, side wheeled steamboat carries you up and down the stream. If you pine for an outing with something doing every minute and a crowd around you that suggests State street on a Saturday afternoon take one of the week end trips by water to St. Joseph. Your thirst for gayety and excitement probably will be satisfied. Hotel rates at St. Joe run as high as $10 a week, but this is exceptional. The round trip by boat costs less than a dollar at times.

THOUSAND ISLANDS.—The Thousand Islands are so big and so beautiful that they have a national rather than a sectional retinue of devotees. They stretch from the eastern end of Lake Ontario down the St. Lawrence river to Montreal, and you couldn't count them if you took the whole summer off and devoted it to that purpose. Some of them are so small that they have room for only one tree. Others are so large that hotels eight stories high and a block long have been built on them. Still others are of just the right dimensions for a wealthy man's country place, and there are many such establishments rearing their turreted heads like the feudal castles on the Rhine. The air is cool and refreshing. The accommodations are of the best and also of the worst. The round trip fare from Chicago to various central points amongst the islands is, approximately $35.

THREE LAKES, WIS.—You can rent a log cabin here and obtain fare of rough but hearty quality, or you can live at a hotel. The fishing in the Eagle waters awaits your pleasure. Just what that fishing is this guide has already related. Local guides will supplement that information and also do your cooking on any jaunts that you may be tempted to take to Laura, Medicine, Planting Ground, or other lakes. You ought to be able to support life for about $7 a week at Three Lakes, and the round trip from town costs you $14.95.

TOMAHAWK LAKE, WIS.—Has the beauties of the northern lakes, on a larger scale than usual. There are eighty miles of shore line with bays and toy promontories every few rods. There are shores sweeping back to a fringe of tall pine trees, and back of that there are majestic woodclad hills. On Windy point there is a "sacred" bowlder, from which the Indians used to scatter tobacco as a propitiatory offering to the Great Sprit. In the waters of the lake there are muskellunge, pickerel, and bass, and all are as quick and gamey as good fish should be. Kewauquesauge, Hasbroucke, Little Lunge, and a host of small lakes may be visited, and guides and camping supplies readily obtained. Fare to and from Chicago is $15.45.

TOPINABEE, MICH.—A terraced hillside—rising from Mullet lake and carpeted with evergreen, arbutus, and sweet fern. Cottages and hotel form the nucleus of the summer colony, which includes many men and women who are willing to travel far to escape the annual visitation of hay fever. Food is good, life is simple, and there are no expensive amusements upon which to spend your vacation money. The best way to get there is to go to Mackinaw City by boat. If you go direct by rail it costs $16.85 one way.

TROY CENTER, WIS.—A little place 103 miles from Chicago, with Booth's lake as its aquatic attraction. If you are looking for a settlement where summer resort prices have not been developed Troy is a good one to visit. It is quiet and off the beaten track. There are no large hotels in the vicinity and the rates at the smaller ones are $6 a week. A round trip from town costs $2.74.

TURTLE WATERS, WIS.—Put yourself and your fishing tackle off the train at Mercer. Hire a good guide, secure a camping outfit, and then turn yourself loose for one of the best fishing campaigns to be made in the north woods. You can strike out towards any point of the compass and not make any mistake. You'll be sure to come across a lake or two with much muskellunge and bass in their waters. There's no particular use mentioning the names of the lakes, because there are too many of them to permit you to get any clear idea of their whereabouts. An especially good trip is down the Turtle and Manitowish rivers to an eventual finish at Baraboo.

COLORADO TO SEE LABOR INVASION.

Chicago Federation Votes to Call Great Convention at Victor on Aug. 25.

WILL STUDY SITUATION.

Plan to Show Sympathy to Union Miners and Surprise Owners.

A big labor convention will be called to meet at Victor, Colo., on Aug. 25 by the Chicago Federation of Labor as a means of encouraging the union miners.

Every labor organization in the country will be requested to send two delegates with full power to represent their respective bodies. Preparations for the big meeting will begin next week, when the notices will be prepared and mailed.

"We have been told that it is not so much financial assistance that the Colorado miners need," said John J. Ryan, who led the movement for the convention, "but the mine owners out there need to be shown the strength of organized labor. Let us go out, look, and heard the lion in his den. Let us see whether they will throw us out as they have the miners.

"After we have visited the ground where the trouble is we can best judge what assistance to offer the strikers. If they need money we can vote it to them then."

Toledo First Suggested.

The movement was started at the federation meeting yesterday by a resolution introduced by the International Association of Railway Clerks. This resolution stated that efforts to induce President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor to hold a convention for the consideration of the Colorado problem had failed.

It provided that the Chicago federation issue a call for a convention to be held at Toledo, O., July 25, for the purpose of "devising ways and means of meeting this new autocratic method of dealing with labor organizations."

After the presentation of the resolution Mr. Ryan asked how a convention in Toledo could study a problem in Colorado, and offered an amendment changing the place to Victor, Colo.

The time of the convention was then deferred until Aug. 25 to allow more time for preparation. It is planned to make a big demonstration of sympathy.

The more conservative element tried to prevail on the meeting to call massmeetings in every city of the country and give the miners the money that would be spent to send delegates to Colorado. Small heed was paid to this counsel, and the measure was carried by an enthusiastic vote.

Appeal to President Rescinded.

When the resolutions were passed Miss Margaret Haley made a motion to rescind the action taken by the federation three weeks ago instructing the executive board to ask President Roosevelt to send federal troops to Colorado if necessary to force the mine owners and state authorities to obey the constitution of the United States.

"The federal authorities have no right to interfere in such a matter," she said, "and I do not want this body to go on record as having even suggested such a thing."

The motion was carried.

LABOR FIGHTS JUDGE HOLDOM.

Federation Calls Him Foe and Decides to Oppose His Re-election to the Bench.

The attack made by union labor on Judge Jesse Holdom of the Superior court was renewed yesterday, when the Chicago Federation of Labor decided to oppose his re-election in every way possible. Action was taken on recommendation of the legislative committee. Its report stated that a "thorough and unbiased investigation of Judge Holdom's record on the bench could lead but to one conclusion—that he is a foe of organized labor."

Wage Fight Against Holdom.

The recommendations made in the report are as follows:

That the efforts of the federation be concentrated against Judge Holdom.

That the legislative committee be charged with the work of carrying on the campaign against the judge and that it be given power to proceed, it being understood that the work shall continue until after the election and a report then be made to the federation.

That as a preliminary measure the committee distribute a circular letter to all labor centers in the county, setting forth the action of the federation and soliciting support.

An effort was made by several socialist members to have the fight waged against the entire ticket instead of the one candidate.

Nominated for Offices.

Nominations were made for the annual election of the federation, which will take place on July 17. They are as follows:

For president—W. G. Schardt and J. W. Saunders, a socialist member of the painters' union.

For vice president—G. Golden, J. La Vine, G. Y. Courtney.

For recording and corresponding secretary—Edward D. Nockels.

For financial secretary—F. G. Hopp.

For treasurer—R. Noren and J. P. Zimmerman.

For reading clerk—Con O'Neill, C. S. Miller, and R. Pickens.

Labor Day Parade Lost.

The fight over the plan to have a Labor day parade again was waged, and the contest was hot for more than an hour. The parade finally was lost by a vote of 43 to 85. The butchers employed at the stockyards asserted they would have a parade of their own.

Resolutions were adopted commending the action of Gov. Yates in attempting to enforce the new prison labor law. The following resolution in regard to bridewell labor was passed:

Whereas, The contract system of labor now in operation at the bridewell is pernicious, working harm to outside labor, we recommend that the contracts, all of which expire in December, 1904, be not renewed, and that occupations be furnished the prisoners which will be beneficial to them and will not interfere with outside labor.

Wants City to Run Street Cars.

The usual resolution in regard to municipal ownership of street railways was passed. This time it recommended that the corporation counsel apply for an order from Judge Grosscup modifying his injunction so as to give the city control of the lines in Adams and Harrison streets, the franchises to which have expired. It was recommended that the commissioner of public works be directed to take possession of these tracks and operate the lines for 3 cent fares.

Notice was given by the Printing Pressmen's Union No. 3 of its withdrawal from the federation because the delegates from the Franklin union were seated.

ITALIAN NONUNION MINERS MAY BE LYNCHED BY MOB.

Citizens of West Columbia, W. Va., Resolve on Vengeance After Two Town Boys Had Been Shot by Foreigners.

Pomeroy, O., July 3.—[Special.]—Friction between residents of West Columbia, W. Va., and imported nonunion Italian miners, culminating in the murder of a boy and the shooting of another last night, may result in lynching.

Agabat Tona Pitta, leader of the Italians, who is in jail, is held the murder, and at a mass meeting held this afternoon resolutions were adopted favoring a lynching party tonight.

The meeting in itself nearly resulted in a tragedy. While the meeting was in session an Italian was discovered in the crowd taking notes. He was chased down the river a mile and mobbed and then thrown into the river. He was rescued and taken to the city jail.

Becomes Bride of Political Leader.

MRS. J. A. WHEELER.

Miss Florence C. Hamilton of Girard, Ill., last Thursday was married to Dr. John A. Wheeler, the new secretary of the republican state committee. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clara Brayton, 2223 Kenmore avenue, Chicago. Mrs. Wheeler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hamilton, and her father is the president of the Girard bank and treasurer of the Bankers' association of Illinois.

ONE KILLED IN HOLDUP.

SHOOTING AFFRAY IN SALOON AT 150 NORTH KEDZIE.

Wound Causes Death in Examining Room at Hospital — Companion Is Dangerously Wounded in Chest—Bartender at 347 Thirty-seventh Street Is Robbed by Three Well Dressed Young Bandits—Two Persons Stabbed in a Street Fight.

One man is dead and another dangerously wounded as the result of a shooting affray at Gus Reger's saloon, 150 North Kedzie avenue. The victims are a man named Lane, who died in the examining room at the county hospital, and Reger, who was shot in the chest. The latter was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital.

The shooting followed an attempted holdup at 1 a. m.

The shooting was done by two holdup men who entered the saloon. They escaped.

Saloon Is Held Up.

Early in the morning three well dressed young men entered the saloon of A. Equi, 347 Thirty-seventh street, and with revolvers ordered John Ferrare, the bartender, to hold up his hands. The victim resisted and was struck on the head by one of the young highwaymen. The robbers then took his watch, $90, and a diamond ring. They escaped.

Stabbed in Street Fight.

In a fight in the afternoon between Alexander Barrior, 6612 Hermitage avenue, and Thomas Scott, 6829 Lincoln street, the latter received five knife wounds on the left shoulder and chest. The men were in Lincoln street between Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth streets. When the men began fighting, the police say, both had knives. Barrior was cut about the face. He was arrested. Scott was taken to the Englewood Union hospital.

Fights with a Watchman.

After a fight with John Carey, night watchman at the Howe & Davidson company's paper box factory, Rockwell and Taylor streets, Paul Kean, 1409 Fillmore street, was arrested and locked up at the West Thirteenth street police station. Three companions escaped.

BETTING AT RACE COURSE IS TO BE ENDED TOMORROW.

Deputy Sheriff Gives Assurance That Hawthorne Will Be Raided and Bookmakers Arrested.

Bookmaking at the Hawthorne racetrack will be given its quietus tomorrow, according to the Citizens' association. Capiases will be served on the forty-two "bookies" indicted by the grand jury Saturday. This was promised yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Edward Byrnes, in charge of the sheriff's office.

"The capiases would have been served last Saturday if they had reached me before closing time," he said. "As a matter of fact, they never have been issued by the clerk of the Criminal court, in spite of statements to the contrary. I expect to get them Tuesday morning. I will arrange immediately afterward to have deputies take them to the racetrack."

Clerk William C. Lawson of the Criminal court said that he was not certain that the capiases had been issued.

"My office closes at 1 o'clock in the afternoon on Saturdays and so does the office of the sheriff," he said. "It was after that hour when the grand jury presented its report. If the capiases had been taken to the sheriff's office, there wouldn't have been any one there to receive them."

Profiting by the delay, the bookmakers expect to reap a harvest today from the holiday crowd at Hawthorne.

RIGID INSPECTION FOR SECOND.

Militia Regiment Kept Under Arms Six Hours While Clothes and Equipment Were Critically Examined.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—[Special.]—The Second regiment underwent a trying and rigid inspection this morning, the men being under arms six hours, while Inspector Fieldhouse made a minute examination of the clothing and equipment.

Previous to the inspection the men were drawn up in formation to welcome Brig. Gen. Moulton, who was escorted into camp by the second battalion under Maj. McConologue and was greeted with an artillery salute of eleven guns.

Col. Stuart and Maj. Garrity were complimented by the men of the regiment who expressed gratification because of their unanimous reelection last night. Tomorrow the regiment will celebrate the fourth with a program of athletic sports.

FILIPINOS HERE AS CITY'S GUESTS.

Island Commissioners to St. Louis Are Met by Committee of Aldermen.

COME TO SEE THE SIGHTS.

Party Includes Many Who Were Leaders in Aguinaldo's Government.

The honorary board of Filipino commissioners to the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis, who have been making a tour of eastern cities, arrived in Chicago from Detroit at 10:30 last night. They were accompanied from the Michigan city by Ald. Bennett, Ald. Raymer, and Ald. Foreman, members of the citizens' committee appointed by Mayor Harrison to entertain the visitors during their stay in Chicago.

On the arrival of the Michigan Central express at the Illinois Central depot a score of carriages were in readiness and the visitors were driven to the Auditorium Annex, where fifty rooms were prepared to receive them.

The party is composed of forty-three of the most prominent natives of the Philippines. Among them are governors of provinces, members of the United States Philippines commission, and former followers and members of Aguinaldo's cabinet.

Army Officers Are Escorts.

Two army officers from the Philippines, Lieut. D. Van Voorhis and Lieut. H. G. Young, accompanied the visitors and will remain with them in the capacity of escort in all their travels throughout the United States. The party will spend three days in sightseeing, and then take a full week's rest at the Chicago Beach hotel. Then they will go to St. Louis and spend a month visiting the world's fair.

Today will be spent by the visitors in a tour of the drainage canal as guests of the board of trustees of the sanitary district. They will go down the canal by boat and luncheon will be served on the way. The return trip will be made by rail. Carriages will take the party for a drive through the parks and boulevards of the north side.

Busy Days Are Planned.

The visitors will be shown the boulevards and parks of the south side tomorrow, including the site of the Columbian exposition at Jackson park. A short stop will be made at the University of Chicago. The guests will then be taken to the stockyards, where luncheon will be served, after which the packing houses and yards will be visited.

From the yards the party will go to the McCormick reaper works and the Kimball piano works, returning to the hotel through the parks and boulevards of the west side. The program for Wednesday includes visits to large business houses and the board of trade. The citizens' committee and city officials will entertain the visitors at luncheon at the Auditorium Annex at 12:30 p. m. on Wednesday. In the afternoon a trip will be made to the Illinois steel works at South Chicago.

TWO DROWNED IN THE LAKE: THREE OTHERS ARE SAVED.

One Victim Falls from Boat in Attempt to Reach Tobacco, and Craft Is Overturned—Swimmer Loses Life.

Two persons were drowned yesterday in Lake Michigan and three others rescued by the life saving crew. A third lost his life in the Calumet river.

An effort to reach a pouch of tobacco held by a companion in a rowboat cost the life of Thomas Szscech, 157 Fifty-third court, Cragin, early in the morning. With his cousins, Joseph and George Szscech, 561 Dixon street, and Lewis Janowitz, 667 Dixon street, he was fishing just outside the breakwater. Thomas asked George for the pouch, but lost his balance trying to reach it and fell into the water. The boat was overturned. Life savers from the mouth of the river rescued the three others, who were clinging to the boat and almost exhausted. The victim's body was recovered.

Refusal of fish to be attracted by the bait used by John Tadija, 108 West Division street, led to the boy's death in the afternoon. With Frank Moreski, 46 Fleetwood street, he failed to catch anything after two hours' fishing, and in disgust went swimming. He entered the lake at the foot of Oak street, and two minutes later sank fifty yards from shore.

Emil Riemer, 24 years old, was drowned in the Calumet river near Riverdale, where he and fifteen other young men had gone to spend a few days. He was alone in a boat and lost his balance and fell overboard as he stood up in the boat.

CAUGHT BY MOVING CARS, A MAN LOSES HIS LIFE.

Struck by One Trolley While Walking Beside Another and Thrown Beneath Wheels.

While walking close beside a trolley car which was standing still, Henry Johnson was caught by another car coming on the next track. The man, who lived at 707 Tallman avenue, lacked room to escape and was thrown beneath the wheels. He died on the way to the hospital. The accident occurred yesterday morning at North Clark street and Devon avenue. Johnson was 20 years old.

James Walsh, 104 Townsend street, is at the Alexian Brothers' hospital, a victim of overconfidence. He believed he could alight from a rapidly moving cable train at Clark and Maple streets, and was found unconscious with two severe wounds on the head.

Henry Shirk, 50 years old, was struck by a West Van Buren street electric car at Green street and taken home.

WOMEN FAINT IN SMOKE: POLICE CARRY THEM OUT.

Two Rescued at a Fire in Building at 403 State Street — Only Nominal Damage Caused by the Blaze.

Policemen of the Harrison street station rescued two young women who had been overcome by smoke at 403 State street last evening. The fire originated on the third floor, and is thought to have started from the igniting of a curtain by a lamp.

The women who were overcome are: Pearl Prouty, 23 years old, and Sadie Prouty, 20.

The fire was discovered about 11 o'clock. When Sergeant White and Policemen Meehan and Whitney arrived they learned that two of the women were still within. The policemen entered the building and carried the unconscious women to the street.

The fire was extinguished, the loss being nominal.

TWO DIE IN FEW MINUTES.

Samuel Lear Stricken by Paralysis and Henry Betz, Son-in-Law, Drops Dead Trying to Revive Him.

Pottsville, Pa., July 3.—[Special.]—Samuel Lear and his son-in-law, Henry Betz, of Pottsville, dropped dead within five minutes of each other this evening in the same room.

Lear had a stroke of paralysis, dying almost instantly, and Betz, while bending over him trying to revive the dead man, fell dead himself on the body.

The shock to Mrs. Betz was so great that her life is despaired of.

BIG CROWDS AT PICNICS IN SUBURBS OF CHICAGO.

Four Thousand Attend Outing of Ancient Order of Hibernians, Where Jig Dancing Is Feature of the Day.

Many thousands of persons yesterday attended picnics held in the suburbs of Chicago. The largest was the annual gathering of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Four thousand persons claiming Ireland as their mother country and representing every chapter in the county made merry all the afternoon and evening at Gardner's park, One Hundred and Twenty-third street and Michigan avenue.

The feature of the afternoon was a jig and real dancing contest, in which fourteen persons took part. The jigs were of the real old Irish kind, and the crowd cheered constantly while the dancers showed their skill. Joseph O'Neil, who has just arrived from Ireland and who was on his way to appear in the Irish village at the St. Louis exposition, won the prize.

The program of games and races will be repeated today and there will be speeches by leaders in the order. The proceeds will be used for the erection of headstones on the graves of Hibernians in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Another picnic of the day was that of the Knights of Father Mathew, at Santa Fé park. The attendance was great, and several hundred dollars were received for the benefit of the boys' encampment, to be held at Lake Villa from July 13 to Aug. 8. Mrs. E. Sweeney of St. Gabriel's parish brought nine children and won the prize of a barrel of flour for having the largest family on the grounds.

Miss Cassie Affeld, 620 Fullerton Avenue, Wedded to Ernest Lehmann, 1326 North Clark Street.

Ernest Lehmann, son of Mrs. E. J. Lehmann, 1326 North Clark street, and Miss Cassie Affeld, daughter of Oscar Affeld, 620 Fullerton avenue, were married on June 29 at St. Joseph, Mich. The young couple are now in the east on their wedding trip.

SEEKS LIGHT AT DUNNING ON ALLEGED COAL FRAUDS.

County Commissioner Garner Visits Institution to Prepare for Examination Into Methods of O'Gara, King & Co.

County Commissioner J. P. Garner yesterday further investigated the charge that employés at Dunning have been in the pay of O'Gara, King & Co. when their coal has been given special tests. The head of the special committee visited the institution and conferred with those who are familiar with the handling of fuel.

Witnesses will be called before the special committee tomorrow to lay bare the methods of the concern at Dunning and to determine to what extent it delivered coal below grade. Jacob Riddle, one of the firemen at the institution, has admitted he received money from the coal firm for being present at the secret tests. Morris Cody and Timothy Driscoll, also firemen, will be summoned to testify.

Commissioner Garner is said to have arranged to have Supt. V. H. Podstata and a number of others appear before the committee.

MAN "ON FIRE" CALLS ENGINE.

Shouts "Insides Are Burning," and Is Arrested After the Flame Fighters Arrive.

Shouting that he was on fire, William H. Miller yesterday morning dashed to an alarm box at North Clark and Division streets and called the engines. Policeman Gallagher hurried to him.

"Stop your noise, and tell me where the fire is," ordered Gallagher. "Is it in your flat?"

"Flat, nothing," was the reply. "Can't you see I'm burning up? It's me that's on fire. My insides are in flames."

The clanging of the fire engine gong was heard, and Miller ran to the firemen, shouting to them to "put him out."

Six policemen arrested him and he will be tried this morning for drunkenness.

BOYS END WALK TO ST. LOUIS.

Evanston Youths Start Without Money and Arrive in the Exposition City with Ten Dollars.

Two Evanston boys reached St. Louis last night, after completing practically the whole trip on foot. They are George Curme, 2103 Orrington avenue, and Clinton Carlock, 2107 Orrington avenue. Each is 14 years old. The boys left home on June 14, starting without money, but with the consent of their parents, who expected they soon would turn back. Young Curme, by a telegram, notified

FRENCH COLONY TO CELEBRATE.

Banquet and Patriotic Fete Is Planned for July 14 at Ogden's Grove.

The French colony in Chicago will celebrate its national fête of July 14 at Ogden's grove, 415 Clybourn avenue. Consul Méron Victor Gerardin, Edouard Lecroart, Louis Compondu, and Theodore Proulx will be in charge.

The proceeds of the celebration will go to the French Benevolent Society of Illinois.

There will be amusements and games in the afternoon and a banquet in the evening, followed by a bal champêtre.

FAIL TO FIND TEACHERS' PLOT.

Officials Declare They Know Nothing of Scheme to Maintain Shortage of Instructors.

School board officials yesterday denied all knowledge of an alleged plot of the Chicago Federation of Labor and the Teachers' federation to block the efforts of the board of education in obtaining an adequate number of teachers for the next year. Members of the Teachers' federation also denied having any part in such a plan.

HANGS HIMSELF IN HOSPITAL, BELIEVING DEATH IMPENDING.

Henry Johnson of Geneva, Ill., Recovering from an Operation, Ends His Life While Despondent.

Henry Johnson of Geneva, Ill., yesterday committed suicide by hanging himself in the lavatory of the Presbyterian hospital. He was recovering from the effects of an operation, but had the delusion that death was impending.

Johnson was 40 years old, and went to the hospital on May 10. Because of his improved condition he was allowed the privileges of a convalescent patient. He disappeared after dinner and was dead when found.

Although he has resided in Chicago during twenty years Frank Palmer, a patient at the Samaritan hospital, admitted blowing out the gas and said he had not attempted suicide. He will recover. He was found unconscious in a room in Bartl's European hotel, 353 State street. The man resided at 143 West Van Buren street.

SERVICE HELD OUT OF DOORS.

Evanston Pastor Preaches on the Lake Front with Congregation Sitting at His Feet.

Sixty members of the Emmanuel Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston last night sat on the ground at the feet of their pastor and listened to a sermon on "Christ in the Sea of Galilee," preached on the lake front. The Rev. F. S. Rockwell, the pastor, said he believed church audiences should have "harmonious surroundings," and for that reason he chose a strip of land between Davis and Church streets in the suburb. He announced that the Rev. T. P. Brown of the First Methodist church had consented to union services in the same place next Sunday.

OBITUARY.

JOHN REED BOWEN, formerly of Chicago, died at his summer residence in Sewickley, Pa., Saturday morning after a long illness. He was an electrical engineer in charge of the Pittsburg office of Robert W. Hunt & Co. Mr. Bowen was the son of Ira T. Bowen, assistant cashier of the Continental National bank. He was born in Chicago in 1873 and was a graduate of the Chicago Manual Training school and of Cornell university. While in Chicago he was a member of the Chicago Athletic and the River Forest Golf clubs. During the last four years Mr. Bowen has resided in Pittsburg. Three years ago he married Miss Florence Talbot of Chicago. Mrs. Bowen and two children are living. The body will be brought to Chicago for burial at Graceland.

MARTHA V. SPALDING, widow of Charles L. Spalding, died early yesterday morning, at her residence, 9 St. James place. The funeral will be private.

MULLIN TOO MUCH FOR WHITE SOX.

Detroit Twirler Shuts Out Comiskey's Men by a Score of 4 to 0.

FARCE IS INTERESTING.

Manager Jones Put Out of Game by Umpire After Three Act Play.

One Mullin of Detroit made the White Stockings look like "babes in toyland" before a crowd of 9,000 or so yesterday, effectually blocking them out of second place by this kind of a crowbar: Detroit, 4; Chicago, 0.

While the Tiger twirler was letting Chicago down with five hits, which made no more impression on the run column than sunshine on adamantine marble, Owen was fairly easy for the visitors, who soaked him in the safe way eleven times altogether and accomplished their four runs practically unaided.

The first of the quartet was made in the second round on Lowe's single and steal, followed by Greminger's single. In the fourth Crawford's clean triple was followed by two singles, which added two to the list. In the next round Barrett's single and steal, in which he was helped along by Sullivan's throw to center field, was followed by McIntyre's single for the fourth tally.

Sox Have Few Chances.

In spite of the absence of runs, the game was a slow, nonchalant kind of a thing, which extended over nearly two hours, with nothing much doing except as already catalogued. The Sox's five hits were so well scattered that there never was but one chance for them to score a run. In the eighth it looked as if they would escape a whitewash, when Sullivan's single and Greminger's wild throw put runners at third and first with none out. But the chance of getting into second place had apparently unnerved the Comiskeyites, along with the loss of their manager in the early part of the game. Dundon popped a weak fly, and White, who had taken the manager's place, struck out. To be sure, the third "strike" which King called on the doctor had to be dug out of the dirt by Catcher Wood, but that was no worse than some of his other decisions, and the Sox didn't suffer any worse than the Tigers on plate guesses.

King changed his system yesterday, and neither the batters nor the pitchers liked it. Hitherto in judging balls and strikes he had called the first ball in the uneven innings a "ball" and the next one a "strike," and so on, reversing his system in the even innings. Yesterday he switched and began with a "strike" in the uneven innings and a "ball" in the even innings, and the players were at sea in consequence.

Farce by Jones and the Umpire.

There was only one feature to enliven the contest and that was a three act farce entitled "The Vindication of Arrogant Conceit," in which Manager Jones and Umpire O'Loughlin were the cast, and which was the sequel to a long standing grudge the umpire has had against the manager.

The farce began with the assistant umpire insisting on standing behind the pitcher when the bases were empty instead of near first base, as is the usual way. This was for fear the bleachers might say unkind things and occasionally throw a pop bottle to ruin his Adonislike poses, which had been practiced so long before hotel mirrors. While posing behind the pitcher, out of reach of the pop bottles, O'Loughlin frequently cut off Manager Jones' view of the batter from center field, and the manager would offend the poser's dignity by asking him to move a little.

Manager Out of the Game.

The second act occurred in the third inning, when Manager Jones started to steal second base and was called out on a close decision. Without questioning the decision itself, the following dialogue, which is vouched for by both actors, took place:

Jones—Now, get over to first base, where you belong.

O'Loughlin—You're out of the game (statuesque pose, with finger extended rigidly in the direction of the home bench).

Jones—What for?

O'Loughlin—For tryin' to show me up. Now git, you ——. And it was noticeable that the assistant umpire did not venture within reach of the pop bottles.

The third act took place at the close of the game. A couple of bluecoats escorted Arrogant Conceit safely through the enraged crowd, shut him into the icebox under the grandstand, along with the brown pop and other "heady" things, and stood guard at the door to prevent possible injury to the face of the man who had attempted to make the crowd think Manager Jones a "rowdy."

Notes of the White Sox Game.

Detroit again today, at 10:30 in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

When an umpire gets so good that the manager or captain of a team cannot say a word to him without being put out of the game, it is time to get a worse umpire.

If Owen had shut the Tigers out without a hit or a run it would have made no difference except in the length of the game. Stumps would have been drawn with the result a tie.

Both pitchers and the batters of both teams fretted considerably over King's guesses at balls and strikes, but no one took a shot at him, presumably because every one knew that, like the musician, he was doing the best he could.

Frank Owen's father, who is an Ypsilanti physician, watched the game with unabashed interest. He was in charge of Holmes, injured knee, which does not seem to improve, and has promised to make a well man of "Ducky" or play left field himself for the rest of the season.

Tannehill closed Detroit's half of the game with a brilliant play on Mullin's apparently safe hit. He grabbed it up on the run, had to wait an instant for Dundon, then shot it to second, forcing Wood, and Dundon relayed it to first several steps ahead of Mullin, which indicates some of the speed of Mullin's hit.

CLEVELAND DEFEATS ST. LOUIS.

Blues Make Seven Hits and Score Three Times, the Home Team Getting Ten Hits and One Run.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—Cleveland defeated St. Louis here today in a listless game by a score of 8 to 1. The locals put up a poor exhibition, their ten hits only counting for one run, while Cleveland made seven hits counts for three runs. A catch by Hemphill of Bradley's liner in the fifth inning was the feature play of the game. Attendance, 15,412. The score:

CARDINALS SET OFF FIREWORKS

Premature Celebration of the Fourth on the West Side Baseball Park.

ST. LOUIS, 19; CHICAGO, 2.

Twenty Hits for Thirty Bases Made Off Pitchers Brown and Lundgren.

It was simply shameful the way those fellows from St. Louis treated the Colts on the west side grounds yesterday. They seemed to have imbibed large bunches of fourth of July spirit, and the fireworks they jammed into a little over one hour and a half in which it took to play that exhibition—if it can be honored with so dignified a title—was enough to make the celebration today resemble a midnight funeral in comparison.

But it seemed as if those cardinals from the other end of the ditch could not wait until today to do their shooting, and when they had finished with the two young slab artists by the names of Mordecai Brown and Carl Lundgren there was not enough left of them to tell the tale, so completely were they riddled. The final score was 19 runs to 2, at least that was the count obtained by the tabulator, but, according to the rooters, anywhere from fifteen to fifty of that St. Louis tribe galloped across the plate.

Close to 10,000 people went out to watch the game and see what an awful trimming the Colts were going to hand to "Kid" Nichol's men. They saw the trimming, all right, but it came from the wrong direction, and it was surely worth the price of admission.

Cardinals Like Brown Fodder.

For two innings Selee's men took themselves seriously. Brown started to feed them to the cardinals, and the visitors took a liking to what he was handing them. It sounded something like bang, bang, one of them being a double header, and two cardinals came home. Then the shooting stopped until the next inning. The same thing happened in the second round, and a few mistakes by the Colts let three more runs register at the plate. That made 5 to 1, for the locals got one in the first, and the crowd began to root for Selee's men to get busy.

At this juncture Selee sent Lundgren in to stop the fireworks. The cardinals weren't a bit partibular who was doing the pitching by this time, and jumped on Carl with all four feet. The bang, bang continued, three more runs counting in the third.

After this there was nothing in the scoring line doing until the fifth, when the cardinals were pretty well rested up. In this round Grady hit one away out to the fence in left field and came home eased up to a gallop. Another run came in the sixth, and the score was 12 to 1.

What happened in the eighth and ninth was something awful. A couple of singles and a triple in the eighth gave the visitors two more runs, and then, after the Colts had made another run in their half of this inning, the ninth came.

Finish Proves a Wonder.

Everybody who saw that game will remember that finish, for it was surely a wonder. Lundgren, standing there on the slab in the hot sun, was putting them over the plate, and the cardinals—bing, bang, bing, bang. It was something terrific, one smash coming right after another, seven in all, one of them a triple. Ten men took a punch at the ball, and seven of these ten run their heads off getting across the plate. As they could not stand the exertion any longer they finally stopped, while the crowd rooted hard for them to make a million.

By the way, Mike O'Neil pitched a good game for the cardinals, and for seven innings allowed the Colts only four hits, no two of which came in one inning. He grew generous in the eighth and let them crack out three hits, which let in one run, but that was all. Score:

WE HOLD REGUL

In Every Section

The quotations on this page by no means indicate all the special clearing sale values arranged for this year's sale. Every section in the store has made preparations for the sale, and each section offers many rare bargains.

We Close Saturdays During July and August at 1 p. m. This Store will be closed all day Monday, July 4.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO.

See Our Windows.

Our twenty-six windows are filled to overflowing with Clearing Sale Bargains. Be sure and see them if you would have an idea of the importance of this sale. When you have seen the windows you will surely want to see the more and greater bargains in the departments themselves.

The Greatest of All July Clearing Sales

Will Begin in This Store on Tuesday Morning, July 5th, at 8 O'Clock.

NEVER before has a pre-inventory clearing sale meant so much to our customers. The summer stocks have suffered from a lack of summer weather, and so at the beginning of the clearing sale we have more complete and better assorted stocks than are desirable from our point of view. Therefore radical price-cutting has been decided upon, and every article of merchandise that we wish to dispose of before inventory has been marked at a quick-selling price. Purchasing opportunities such as we offer are of very rare occurrence, and we want every one who appreciates a real bargain to take advantage of this sale.
